Action Against Administrator Is Rescinded By Supervisors

Bruce Gets Pay Hike, Old Quarters Back

County Administrator Alan Bruce late yesterday got a pay raise, job assurance, and his old quarters back.

The county board of supervisors, moving swiftly and without debate, undid a series of action by which last year's board attempted to abolish the administrator's job, moved Bruce into a one-room office, and restricted his job mainly to civil defense.

Supervisor George Ludy was left alone, through illness of William D. Fusselman, as representative of last year's majority which sought to abolish the position and in any event to whittle it down.

His only negative vote in yesterday's rapid actions was to oppose the first resolution, proposed by Supervisor Peter Behr, rescinding the job-abolishing ordinance of last May 24. This takes the issue of the county administrator job off next June's primary election ballot.

The second resolution was to preserve salary parity between the positions of administrator and public works director. Bruce moves from $1,125 to $1,175 a month through this action.

'CELL 300'

Ludy spoke up when a third resolution loomed, relative to getting Bruce out of his present "Cell 300" in the courthouse.

"Plenty big enough!" was Ludy's verdict on the 13-by-13 foot room.

"It's inadequate," countered Behr. "And Jean Smith and the sheriff (both in civil defense work) are shaking hands between prisoners downstairs."

Bruce spoke up to say that the budget contains a position of administrative assistant, "not filled for a variety of reasons," and that he was prepared at any time to explain his plans for such an assistant working as analyst.

Clerk George S. Jones said that if such were the plan it would be a waste of time to check, as had been suggested, with the presiding judge as to whether Bruce could get two new rooms just provided by modification of a courtroom.

RENTED SUITE

Behr proposed that the board authorize renting of the suite portion of the former administrator-personnel offices across the street at 1000 Fifth Avenue at $250 a month. This was approved effective next Monday to the end of June, when Bruce will move to the civic center. Former rental was $300 for the larger group of offices.

The fourth action was a reversal of instruction from Fusselman as chairman with reference to Bruce's duties. Sev-

County Pay Hikes Finally Readjusted

By RANDALL GOULD

Salaries of about one-seventh of all Marin County employees were finally readjusted yesterday in a turbulent meeting of county supervisors acting on "equity increases" which had been recommended last June.

Supervisor Peter Behr finally managed to get three colleagues into the vote corral (Supervisor William D. Fusselman being absent because of illness) but he achieved this only after a rebellion in which agreement he won last week nearly came unstuck.

BEHR BARGAINS

Behr had bargained his way to agreement last week that the equity adjustments would be made in return for his acquiescence in raises for elected officials, desired by the rest of the board. Yesterday it became evident that there had been misunderstanding as to the scope of the proposed changes.

"Your budget will be all shot," declared Supervisor George Ludy. "I think you're getting out of line."

THEY WAVER

Both Supervisors William Gnoss and Walter R. Castro wavered and disclosed they hadn't realized the extent of changes. Gnoss ventured the idea that maybe the board shouldn't exceed one range, or 5 per cent.

"It's most disappointing," Behr declared, "when I move on a commitment, and find the next week that the assurance is withdrawn."

Support for Behr came from Administrator Alan Bruce and Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell, who joined in pointing out that the proposed changes resulted from careful comparative study, that in principle the equity shifts have been approved by the County Employees Assn., that employees understand the effort to give justice so there won't be a storm of other claims, and that

WANTS MARIN CITY HIGH

Redevelopment Group May Sue Tam Unit Over School

Marin County Redevelopment Agency commissioners decided yesterday to hold a closed meeting Jan. 25 to discuss suing Tamalpais Union High School District for failure to build a high school on its Marin City site.

The commissioners said the high school district has advised it has no plans upcoming for the 31-acre site "in the heart of Marin City" but has put areas such as the Tiburon Peninsula and Fairfax-San Geronimo before Marin City in high school priority.

"We will have a patch of weeds here for 15 years," said Commissioner Alton Lerch.

Chairman George C. Goheen questioned whether the school district was perhaps only using the land for speculation.

The land, according to commission attorney Leland H. Jordan, was turned over to the high school district in 1958 at no charge with a provision a school building be started by July 1962. If it does not build by then, the district is to pay $61,000 for it, Jordan said.

"It seems the commission acted in good faith and has been had. It's misrepresentation," declared Lerch.

Mrs. Minnie Sievers, a trustee of the Sausalito School District, said the high school district takes the stand it will need the site eventually but not now.

The commissioners bemoaned the fact that, whereas 132 war-time houses were burned last year by the Marin County Fire Department at a low cost, the 28 remaining hillside duplexes may cost up to $1,500 each to remove.

Executive director Bert Klahn said, "It is now necessary to hire a meterologist to send up balloons, according to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District." He said charges for the meteorologist would be $850 to prepare for a hearing and $500 to send up balloons to check winds and drift and see if the weather is suitable.

Klahn said the fire department burned the buildings at $30 each last year, declaring them a hazard. This year the department refused to go ahead without permission of the air pollution district, he reported.

"What we need is a good arsonist," declared Goheen.

The commission set for Jan. 22 a meeting with Marin City merchants to discuss relocating commercial establishments in temporary residential buildings. It will involve relocating some families, also. A main road will be routed through the present commercial area.

The Marin County Housing Authority, meeting prior to the redevelopment agency, set Feb. 2 as date of hearing to discuss sale of land to churches in Marin City. The commission heard that of the four churches proposing to build, two have qualified so far, the First Missionary and the Church of God.

MARIN CITY SITE FRICTION ARISES

Tam Union High Trustee Says Won't Deal With Bert Klahn

More friction arose out of last night's meeting of the Tamalpais Union High School District board when the subject of the Marin City High School site came before the trustees.

No representative of the Marin County Housing Authority was present at the meeting.

Supt. Chester G. Carlisle informed the board he had received invitations from the housing authority for trustees to attend the 2 p.m. meeting of the housing authority yesterday. But, he said, he received the invitations at 4 p.m., two hours after the meeting began.

Said district Chairman Edmund J. Thomas Jr.: "I have said this before and I will say again, I will have no dealings with Bert Klahn (executive director of the housing authority). I will deal only with his attorney."

The trustees withheld action on the contract agreement with the redevelopment agency to build a high school on the site in Marin City until further word from the agency.

The board stressed it had not received official word from the agency on its taking legal action to recover the 31-acre school site which the district now owns. The only information the trustees had was from a story which appeared in the Independent-Journal Dec. 20, they said.

Before the close of the meeting, the trustees went into executive session to discuss teachers eligible for tenure.

The board extended the leave of absence of Keith McNab, chemistry teacher at Sir Francis Drake High School for another year. McNab is conducting studies with a National Science Foundation grant at Berkeley.

Mrs. Barbara Reed, physical education teacher at Drake, and Mrs. Marie Jones, English teacher at Drake, both resigned. The two had been on a leave of absence.

Mrs. Marsha Hagen, history teacher at Tamalpais High was granted a one-year leave of absence.

TO JURY TOMORROW?

Pitbulls Defendant Tells Of Innocence

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

George Sequeira, 23, the third defendant in the Marinwood pitbull trial, today reiterated his innocence of fighting his pitbulls terriers or of throwing stray dogs to them as sparring partners.

It was the second day on the witness stand for the son of rancher Joseph Sequeira, 59, and cousin of Clem Sequeira, 23. All three are charged with cruelty to animals.

Under direct examination by defense attorney William O. Weissich, George practically repeated earlier testimony given by Clem in regard to their activities on Oct. 25, when their Marinwood ranch was raided by Humane Society and sheriff's officers.

George said an injured dog, found in the tack room of the ranch at the time of the raid, was hurt by his two "cow dogs," Butchie and Louie, when caught chasing sheep that afternoon.

Both Butchie and Louie took the stand with George yesterday afternoon. They followed two other dogs into court, Coley and Sampson, scarred pitbulls which, the defense claimed, were injured by boars, not other dogs.

George, under cross-examination by Deputy Dist. Atty. P. Roy Vallarino, denied ever having seen a black cocker spaniel which disappeared from the home of Mrs. Agnes Donnelly of 40 Wolfe Avenue, San Rafael, early last October.

The dog's collar was found in the tack room during the raid. The prosecution charges that the dog was picked up on the street by the Sequeira boys and subsequently killed by their pitbulls as part of the dogs' training.

George backed Clem's testimony that the collar of the spaniel was "thrown in the back of our truck" by a strange man on a San Rafael street.

Other dog collars found in the tack room at the ranch, George said, were either given him or he had bought them.

George told the jury that he had given a pony to Billy Newman, 15, neighbor and helper at the ranch, "about five months before Oct. 25."

JUDGE, LAWYER HOLD ALARMING CONFERENCE

Judge N. Charles Brusatori and attorney John B. Ehlen held an unscheduled 15-minute conference behind closed doors this morning — they were trapped inside the erratic elevator of the courthouse annex from about 10:15 to 10:30.

When building superintendent Les Wider opened the faulty door, the two men walked out smiling.

"We rang the alarm button and knew somebody was working on the elevator," said Judge Brusatori. "We had a chance to reminisce about old cases."

Weather Like June; Fire Curbs?

A midwinter curb on open burning was urged by the county fire department today as "June in January" came to Marin.

Acting County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom asked residents to refrain from open burning because of warm weather and low humidity. The humidity dropped to 17 per cent as the temperature rose to 82 yesterday afternoon at the county firehouse in Woodacre.

Cooler weather was predicted for tomorrow, but no rain was in sight.

Yesterday's 82-degree tops in Woodacre was equalled in Novato and almost tied in San Rafael, which reported 81. San Anselmo had a 78-degree reading; Terra Linda, 77; Mill Valley, 72. Bolinas, usually a cool spot even in midsummer, reported a temperature of 76.

In San Francisco yesterday the mercury climbed to 79 degrees for an all-time January high.

Kennedy May Ask National Debt Boost

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy received Congressional assurances today that he will get immediate action if it is necessary to raise the national debt limit.

Kennedy told Democratic Congressional leaders it would be necessary to raise the current 298-billion-dollar limit to enable the Treasury to meet current expenses.

There were conflicting reports about when Kennedy would make a request to increase the limit. One source said it was presented as an immediate need. Other sources said this was described as a "possibility."

A source said that Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.) chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, told the White House meeting that if Kennedy made the request, his committee would temporarily sidetrack what it was doing to go immediately to work on the proposal.

4 Soldiers Die In Tank, Truck Blast

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP)—A big Army tank and a five-ton truck loaded with soldiers crashed head on today on a main street of Ft. Hood and the resulting explosion and fire killed four persons and injured at least 19 others. Eleven are in serious condition.

All were believed to be from Co. A of the 35th Armored, a unit of the Second Armored Division, said Col. Edward Kyle, information officer for the fort. The tank belonged to the 67th Armored, another unit of the Second Armored Division.

Names of the dead and injured were withheld.

"There was a collision and a gasoline explosion," Kyle said. "That is about all we can say now.

"The tank was heading west for a training area and the truck was traveling east," Kyle said. "They collided at the entrance to the motor pool of the 67th Armored. We believe the dead and injured were passengers in the truck."

Kyle said the driver of the tank received cuts and the guide for the tank was not injured. He said he did not know if the guide was inside the tank or outside.

Gasoline Explodes In 3-Truck Crash

INDIO (AP) — A three-truck smashup exploded loads of gasoline and kerosene today in a huge fire that destroyed 150 feet of asphalt-paved U.S. 99, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The spectacular, leaping flames knocked out telephone and power service to the entire south end of the Coachella Valley including Thermal, Mecca, Oasis and the Salton City area.

The three drivers involved apparently escaped injury.

ALAN NUNN MAY

Post For Atom Spy

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Alan Nunn May, the Western world's first atom spy, has been appointed special professor of physics at the University of Ghana.

Announcing this today, a Ghana spokesman said the 50-year-old British scientist is expected to take up the appointment shortly.

May worked on an atomic energy project in Canada during World War II. He was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment in 1946 for disclosing atomic secrets to the Soviet Union. He was released in 1952 after serving six years and eight months of the term.

Officer Death Probe

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A homicide investigation began today into the death of a veteran San Francisco policeman who suffered a fractured skull last Wednesday.

Sgt. Richard E. Brennan, 51, died Sunday night. Police Chief Thomas Cahill said a witness reported that Brennan told him he had had an altercation with two assailants last Wednesday while off duty.

Later the same day, Brennan was picked up by a city ambulance from a street where he had fallen. He did not regain consciousness.

Sergeant Brennan had been with the police force since 1935.

Seeks Bridges' Seat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Perkins Bass (R-N.H.) announced today he will seek the senate seat vacated by the death of Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.).

Bass, son of the late Gov. Robert P. Bass, was elected to the house in 1954 and is a member of the house GOP policy committee. He also serves on the house public works and space committees.

Toboggan Deaths

SHERBROOKE, Que. (UPI)—A young boy and his two sisters were killed last night when their toboggan collided with a car.

Kenneth Smith, 12, his sisters, Jeffrie, 8, and Lindon, 9, were killed instantly by a car. Another sister, Diane, 10, was severely injured, while a fourth sister escaped unhurt.

The five children had tobogganed down the hill and onto the highway near their home at nearby Judd's Hill.

JFK Father Home

PALM BEACH (UPI) — Joseph P. Kennedy, father of the president, rested at his seaside home today following his release from St. Mary's Hospital in neighboring West Palm Beach.

Kennedy, 73, was released yesterday after 20 days of hospital care for a stroke he suffered last month. Hospital officials said he faced several more months of confinement at his sprawling winter home overlooking the Atlantic.

The former U.S. ambassador to Great Britain suffered a stroke Dec. 19 after playing nine holes of golf at Palm Beach Country Club. His right side is still paralyzed and he is still unable to talk.

Drug Information

NEW YORK (AP)—Now when a doctor anywhere in the nation wants to prescribe a drug, he can call a telephone number in Washington, and get current information on what the drug can and cannot do.

The new telephone service, operating around the clock every day in the year, is called Mediphone and began operation yesterday.

It will help doctors keep track of the about 8,600 drugs now in use and the new ones introduced regularly by the U.S. pharmaceutical industry.

School 12 Months?

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Gov. Ernest Vandiver says a proposal to hold public school classes 12 months a year is very provocative and he hopes legislative committees will give it thorough study.

But, he added at a news conference yesterday, "My 13-year-old son has very passionately requested that I veto that piece of legislation."

Ingrid Vacationing

First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasilyv Kuznetsov told Belgian Ambassador Hyppolite Cools that all passengers and crewmen were safe and staying at a hotel in Grozny, north of Yerevan, where the plane was reported forced down.

Kuznetsov delivered a routine formal protest about the violation of Soviet air space by the Caravelle jetliner.

PEACE OR FIGHTING?

Indonesia Promises Action On New Guinea In 10 Days

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — A spokesman for President Sukarno said today Indonesia will decide within 10 days whether to settle its dispute over West Irian (Dutch New Guinea) by diplomacy or "other means."

The spokesman made this statement after Sukarno, angered and shaken by what he called a Dutch attempt to assassinate him, had spent two hours discussing the situation with his "operational command staff."

Foreign Minister Subandrio said after the meeting he could see no evidence that "vague" Dutch policies would help to solve the dispute.

The spokesman said also that the president had chosen Brig. Gen. Suharto to command the so-called "West Irian Liberation Army" with headquarters in Makassar, the east Indonesian port where the apparent bomb attempt on Sukarno's life was made Sunday night. Makassar is about 750 miles from Dutch territory.

Three persons were killed and 28 injured by a hand grenade which exploded about 150 yards from Sukarno's car, but the president escaped injury. He said here last night that it was the fourth time "Dutch agents" had tried to kill him.

From Makassar, a likely jumping-off point for any Indonesian attempt to invade New Guinea, there were no reported signs of an unusual military buildup despite increasing Indonesian threats.

Only one warship could be seen in the area. Most harbors and most public buildings are festooned nightly with strings of colored lights almost as if for a festival.

In Jakarta, the army clamped tight controls on communications as a result of the presumed assassination attempt. The "war administrator" (military governor) held up cables filed by foreign correspondents and was still doing so today despite official promises that the ban would be lifted.

HOLLAND IN MOURNING FOR VICTIMS OF CRASH

HARMELEN, The Netherlands (UPI) — Flags flew at half-staff throughout Holland today in tribute to the 87 victims of the country's worst rail disaster in history.

All Holland was in mourning as grief-stricken relatives went about the saddening task of identifying the remaining 18 bodies and making arrangements for the burial of 69 other victims.

Officials said 55 persons were injured yesterday when an 11-coach express from Leeuwarden-to-Rotterdam roared past a red danger sign hidden in the mist and slammed into the side of a 6-coach Rotterdam-to-Amsterdam express train at an 80-mile-an-hour clip.

Both engineers were killed and it is possible the exact reasons for the crash never will be known. A government investigation will open Friday.

Dominican Envoy Says Democracy Is Growing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jose Antonio Bonilla Atiles, newly named foreign minister of the Dominican Republic, says his nation "is firmly on the road to democracy and the people . . . are determined to keep it that way."

Bonilla was formerly Spanish language chief at the Army Language School in Monterey, Calif.

He has been in Washington six months in a job he calls "a sort of official unofficial representative of the new era in the Dominican Republic."

Latin American diplomats here join U.S. officials in saying that Bonilla, who has spent many of his 63 years fighting the Rafael Trujillo dictatorship at home and abroad, has been an able diplomat under very difficult conditions.

"You might say that I am one of the products of the political turmoil in the past in my country," said Bonilla in an interview. "There are five generations of men in my family who were born abroad because of political unrest in their homeland. I was among them. I was born in Ponce, Puerto Rico.

"This will tell you how deeply I feel, as do thousands of other Dominicans, about the new opportunities for freedom, independence and progress which has come to our country. The American republics can be sure we shall not forget this and will work in every way possible to solidify democracy in our country."

Bonilla attracted international attention recently for a speech to the United Nations Security Council, one result of which was to silence for a time the noisy statements about Dominican affairs by spokesmen of the Fidel Castro government of Cuba.

The Cuban regime has been charging that presence of U.S. warships in the Dominican area last November damaged the interests of anti-Trujillo forces in that country.

Radio Set Stolen From Model House

An AM-FM radio and intercommunication system was removed from a model house in the Reedlands subdivision, Tiburon, sometime in the last two weeks.

Arthur Lang, official of the KLLM Construction Co. said the set taken from the home on North Terrace was valued at up to $1,000. Sheriff's deputies said the thief apparently knew what he was doing in that all wires and parts had been carefully removed.

$250-Million School Bonds Issue Asked

BURLINGAME (AP) — The California Teachers Assn. has included a request for a 250-million-dollar school bond election in a list of proposals to Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Arthur F. Corey, executive secretary of the 123,000-member teachers' organization, included the proposal in a letter to Brown yesterday. Corey asked that the bond issue and other recommendations be included in the governor's program for attention at a special session of the state legislature.

The 250 million dollars was described by Corey as a minimum estimate of what it would cost for the state to continue its school building aid program for two years.

The association recommends placing the issue on the June primary ballot.

Other recommendations include:

Clarification of Senate Bill 946, which requires school districts with an average daily attendance of between 250 and 850 to grant teachers permanent tenure after a probationary period.

Introduction of legislation to provide a "truly representative" advisory commission on teacher licensing, along the lines of Senate Bill 624 that was vetoed by Brown last year.

Border Guard Reported Killed By Russians

BERLIN (UPI) — Russian soldiers guarding the Berlin border shot and killed a Communist policeman trying to escape to West Berlin, the West Berlin newspaper Morgenpost reported today.

The newspaper attributed its report to a Communist border guard who fled to West Berlin yesterday. West Berlin police could not confirm the report. They said a border guard did flee to West Berlin yesterday but they had no report on a border shooting involving Russians.

The newspaper quoted the refugee as saying two Russian soldiers opened fire on West Berlin's northern border during the weekend when flares were set off as a signal that an escape was being attempted through barbed wire to the French sector.

The Russians killed one Communist policeman and captured a second, the newspaper account said.

The Western Allies have had reports that Russian soldiers are patrolling the borders with East German police and soldiers.

TINY RADIO STATION PUSHED OFF THE AIR

Youths, 13, 14, Have Neighborhood Setup Until FCC Aide Warns Of $10,000 Fine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The slightly high-pitched voice of WALE, "your neighborly station," has signed off without so much as one bong.

It was turned off, gently but firmly, by a grim-faced investigator of the Federal Communications Commission who read the riot act to its two operators —Bruce Wahl, 13, and David Lester, 14.

Its station was Wahl's bedroom; its commentators, engineers, announcers and disc jockeys were Wahl and Lester. Its range was neighborly—covering nine other houses.

The boys pieced the equipment together from old parts and went on the air a month ago from Wahl's home in nearby Falls Church, Va.

Every afternoon after school, WALE offered the neighbors a program of weather information, news culled from newspapers and music—"everything from rock 'n' roll to the semi-classics."

Any listeners? Wahl and Lester had no rating but Wahl said he knew that at least one family listened—"but they moved away after the first broadcast. Of course, they had been planning to move for six months."

It was fun. Until the other day.

WALE had been on the air for about 45 minutes when Bruce spotted a man in an automobile aiming a device with an aerial at the bedroom window.

Then the man came to the door.

"Are you running a radio station?" he asked.

Proudly the boys acknowledged they were.

The smiles faded when the man flashed a card identifying him as an investigator from the FCC. He said he wanted to check their equipment.

After checking the equipment—which operated on about a tenth of a watt—he sat down with the boys and Bruce's mother and read a passage from a book. It was a copy of the Communications Act and it told how people operating unlicensed stations could be fined $10,000 or sent to jail for two years. Maybe both.

"Boy," said Bruce, "did we begin shaking like leaves."

So now WALE is off the air. The FCC is willing to forget the whole thing but officials explained there would be chaos on the airwaves if anybody could operate a station, even a neighborly one.

The Old Testament refers to Byblos, Lebanon, as Gebal. The town's Phoenician name is Jubayl. But Greeks and Romans called it Byblos because of the scrolls of papyrus (biblos) manufactured there.

Every afternoon after school, WALE offered the neighbors a program of weather information, news culled from newspapers and music—"everything from rock 'n' roll to the semi-classics."

Any listeners? Wahl and Lester had no rating but Wahl said he knew that at least one family listened—"but they moved away after the first broadcast. Of course, they had been planning to move for six months."

It was fun. Until the other day.

WALE had been on the air for about 45 minutes when Bruce spotted a man in an automobile aiming a device with an aerial at the bedroom window.

Then the man came to the door.

"Are you running a radio station?" he asked.

Proudly the boys acknowledged they were.

The smiles faded when the man flashed a card identifying him as an investigator from the FCC. He said he wanted to check their equipment.

After checking the equipment—which operated on about a tenth of a watt—he sat down with the boys and Bruce's mother and read a passage from a book. It was a copy of the Communications Act and it told how people operating unlicensed stations could be fined $10,000 or sent to jail for two years. Maybe both.

"Boy," said Bruce, "did we begin shaking like leaves."

So now WALE is off the air. The FCC is willing to forget the whole thing but officials explained there would be chaos on the airwaves if anybody could operate a station, even a neighborly one.

The Old Testament refers to Byblos, Lebanon, as Gebal. The town's Phoenician name is Jubayl. But Greeks and Romans called it Byblos because of the scrolls of papyrus (biblos) manufactured there.

2 Mountain States Hit By Bitter Cold In Wake Of Snows

Colorado, Wyoming Blanketed By 12 Inches; Two Deaths Told

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bitter cold moved into Colorado and Wyoming today in the wake of one of the winter's heaviest snowfalls.

The storm which blanketed the two mountain states with 12 inches or more of snow yesterday moved eastward into Kansas and Oklahoma.

Up to six inches of snow was expected in the Oklahoma Panhandle. Roads in northwest Oklahoma were icing. Snow in the Oklahoma City area was pushed around by winds of 28 to 35 miles an hour.

The storm, second in a week, pushed as far south as Amarillo, Tex. Blizzard conditions struck last night in the Texas Panhandle. At Amarillo the temperature dropped to 20 from a day-time high of 40.

More than a half foot of snow fell in western Kansas. Tribune reported seven inches, Garden City six and Dodge City three.

Some of the coldest air of the season swept across the northeast plains of New Mexico westward to the Continental Divide.

In Wyoming, the mercury fell to 24 below zero at Casper and Laramie and to 15 below at Cheyenne. Temperatures hit sub-zero recordings in Colorado.

Bus and airline schedules were disrupted in Colorado and Wyoming as snow covered all major highways.

Two deaths were attributed to the storm in Denver, both resulting from heart attacks induced by over-exertion in trying to cope with th, city's 13½-inch snowfall.

Snow slides blocked two mountain passes, Loveland west of Denver and Monarch in south central Colorado. Monarch has been cleared. Other major highways were snow packed, icy and dangerous, even with chains.

Hundreds of schools were shut in Colorado. Many stores in downtown Denver closed early yesterday.

Martin Marietta Corp. notified its night shift not to report for work at the huge plant southwest of Denver where the Titan missile is manufactured. Denver Tramway officials said it was impossible to maintain regular bus schedules.

ENTRANCE RULES TIGHTENED BY U.C.

BERKELEY (AP) — High school students will have to make better grades than D to enroll in the University of Califrnia as freshmen beginning in the fall of 1964.

The northern and Southern divisions of the university's Academic Senate — representing all U.C. campuses — yesterday approved tighter entrance requirements drawn up by the university's Board of Admission and Relations with Schools.

The requirements include a provision that any student who receives a D grade in high school will be barred from admission, unless the grade is made up by repeating the course. Previously D grades received in the ninth grade were not counted against applicants for admission to University of California campuses.

The changes also eliminate some technical exceptions to admission requirements.

E. S. Starkman, chairman of the Board of Admissions and Relations with Schools, said the increased standards are designed to cut down the percentage of high school graduates eligible for admission from 14.8 to 12.6 per cent this year. The state's master plan for high education has set 12.5 per cent of high school graduates as a goal for eligibility at U.C.

The new rules do not mean that ineligible students will be barred entirely from attending the university, however.

'NO PAY RAISES'

Mill Valley Schools Are Low On Money

Mill Valley School District has no money to hire teachers for 19 classrooms it is building, Asst. Supt. Leo B. Edson told district trustees last night.

Edson also said the district's 1962-63 income will be insufficient to allow increases in teacher salaries. "Because of this, "Edson said, "Mill Valley will lose out in competition for faculty replacements."

Edson declared Mill Valley is spending for instructional expenses $367 per pupil per year, "next to the bottom in relation to 10 other school districts." He said Reed School District spends $513 per pupil, to top the list, and Dixie School District spends $365 or $2 less per pupil than Mill Valley.

A 10 per cent increase in the instructional budget would be necessary to maintain existing educational services, he estimated.

Increases likely to be proposed, according to Supt. G. Robert McConnell, are for library allocations, establishment of summer schools and to provide a complete language program. Library allocations have been discussed by the board; summer school and foreign language will be discussed Jan. 22.

The board will meet at Park School Auditorium Feb. 8 to make its decision as to the amount of tax increase to be requested in an April 10 election, McConnell said.

Discussion of other parts of the 1962-63 budget will be held Jan. 22 and Feb. 5.

Sonoma Unit Approves Of Potter Move

Removing the Potter portion of Harmony School District in Sonoma County from Tomales High School District to Analy High School District was approved last night by the Sonoma County Committee on School District Organization.

Trustees from Tomales High School District voted against the resolution in a meeting at Analy High School in Sebastopol.

This recommendation will be sent to the Marin County committee for its concurrence, said Walter Eagan, assistant superintendent of Sonoma County schools.

Seven Sonoma committee members voted for the resolution, one abstained and three were absent, he reported.

It was proposed by the Sonoma County superintendent's staff that Bodega Bay, Watson, American Valley and the Potter portion of Harmony Union districts be made part of Analy High School District and that Bloomfield be made part of the Petaluma High School District.

Action was taken on this recommendation was postponed action, awaiting the Marin County committee's recommendations on effect this would have on Tomales High School District,

Edwin L. Blackmore, administrative assistant of the Marin County school superintendent, Alex Mitchell and Mrs. Helen E. Wallace of the Marin County committee attended the meeting.

School Study Unit Agrees On 2 Aims

Two points which will be included in its final report were agreed on last week by the Novato Citizen Committee To Study School Aims.

These are:

1. Each student should have an equal opportunity to achieve maximum development of his capacities.

2. Parental responsibility is as important as the three R's. It should be a "fourth R."

The committee holds public meetings from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. each Thursday in the Novato School Administration Building.

Floating Sausalito Apartments Protested

Three protests have been received in connection with plans of Albert-Lovett Corp. of El Cerrito to build the Cote D'Azure Apartments and a floating dock at South Street and Alexander Avenue, Sausalito, the Army Enginees District in San Francisco reports.

As result of this, decision will be withheld for analysis of the reasonableness of the protests which were understood to include some grounds other than the navigational basis which is the sole point the engineers will consider. Decision was said to be likely any time between a week and a month.

New Motel Definition Requested

The Corte Madera Planning Commission last night proposed a new definition of motels be incorporated in the town's zoning ordinance.

The proposed new definition states that not more than 40 per cent of the units in a motel may have kitchens. Planning commissioners proposed some change in definition be made after they approved a 109-unit motel adjacent to Edgewater Inn with misgivings that it might prove to be an apartment house rather than a motel.

The commission recommended the town council rezone a 37,000-square foot area between Marina Village and Mariner Cove on Paradise Drive from single family to apartment use.

The planners set an adjourned meeting for Jan. 22 to take up other matters which were on last night's agenda. Included is an application for a use permit from co-op markets for a store on the east side of Paradise Drive just south of the Corte Madera overpass for Highway 101.

PAY

there is enough money to cover.

Bruce said the higher increases, as much as 15 per cent, are limited to few. After the vote Mitchell announced that a surplus of $15,747 can still be transferred to unappropriated reserve.

"The assumption is," Behr summed up, "that these people did not get a fair deal in the past. These people were underpaid and we're correcting it."

Castro backed Behr's feeling that he had a firm commitment and the vote finally was unanimous.

Bill for the 104 employees involved will be $23,616 for the rest of this year.

Those affected were scattered throughout the whole salary structure but several department heads profited, including Welfare Director Betty L. Pressley, Planning Director Mary Summers, Asst. Purchasing Agent John Hettrick, Communications Supervisor J. Mansfield Lewis, Health Director Carolyn Albrecht, Fire Chief Charles Reilley, Probation Officer Walter Busher, Juvenile Hall Supt. David Fogel and Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham.

The package deal prepared for the board by Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell in accordance with last week's instructions caused several additional adjustments.

Because the post of administrator has been on parity with that of public works director, a special resolution gave Alan Bruce $50 more a month.

Along with four other elected officials, Auditor-Controller Leon A. deLisle got a raise last week. Because in his case alone it is possible to make the increase effective at once rather than next Jan. 1, Bruce proposed and the board approved a raise in the controller part of deLisle's salary effective at the first of this month giving him $1,425 more annually.

Bruce pointed out that the grand jury auditor had proposed that the coroner and public administrator be put on a salary rather than a fee basis. He was instructed to arrange with Coroner Frank J. Keaton for an early conference on this.

Fire Chairman Is Elected In Marinwood

Western Pacific Railroad executive Robert Morris last night was elected chairman of the Marinwood fire commission, replacing David Dryfoos, who resigned last month.

Morris has served as a Marinwood fire commissioner for seven months. He resides at 651 Idylberry Road.

The commission last night also drew up a resolution "defining the authority, responsibility and accountability of the fire commission to the Marinwood Community Services District," according to chairman Howard Council of the community services district.

Council said that the resolution, "involves the personnel and equipment of the fire department as well as the strengthening of the fire commission." It will be presented at the Jan. 18 meeting of the services district board.

The meeting was followed by a closed session devoted to "a discussion of but no definitive action on" the status of Fire Chief Donald Ray, said council.

Council said the fire commission plans to hold a public session to draw up a recommendations to submit to the community services district board regarding Ray. Ray was put on probation by the fire commissioners last summer. His probationary period expired Dec. 24.

Treated For Pill Overdose

A 23-year-old San Rafael man, suffering from unemployment and a liver ailment, was treated at San Rafael General Hospital yesterday for an overdose of sleeping pills.

Police said Walter Vincent Burke was taken to the hospital at 12:13 p.m. after his wife, Marlene Ann Burke, reported he had swallowed the pills when she told him they could get no further assistance from the welfare department.

Molotov Is Delayed In Moscow

VIENNA (UPI)—The return of former Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to resume his atoms-for-peace post was delayed today. He still has not left Moscow.

Molotov had been expected back here momentarily to again take up his post as second in command of the Soviet delegation to the International Atomic Energy Authority.

But the Soviet Foreign Min- that Molotov was "still here in Moscow and would be leaving shortly."

A ministry spokesman said he was making the announcement to clarify the earlier report of Molotov's return to his post, which he said had caused some confusion.

ACTION

eral weeks ago Fusselman told Bruce to divide his time 80 per cent civil defense, 20 per cent administrative duties.

"He should spend 20 per cent on bomb shelters and 80 per cent on business of the county," said Behr. His colleagues went along with the idea that neither on the country nor federal level do "bomb shelters" seem presently to offer much scope.

But in shaping the resolution for unanimous passage, it was agreed that "civil defense" should be substituted for "bomb shelters" as appropriate field for perhaps one-fifth of Bruce's efforts for awhile.

Bruce said today he was prepared to move promptly back to former quarters, and that Mrs. Smith would take Room 300 with equal speed.

"It's wonderful!" said Mrs. Smith. "I'm ready to go right this very minute. For me, that space will be just right and mighty necessary."

American Sculptor Haseltine Dies

Haseltine was famous for his statues of animals, including a 3,000 pound bronze statue of the racehorse Man O' War which now stands in Lexington, Ky. Among his more recent works is an equestrian statue of George Washington in front of the National Cathedral in Washington, D.C.

Funeral services will be held Thursday in Paris, with burial scheduled for Rome.

Salesman Jailed For Stab Attempt

Arrested was Allan Randolph Jordan of 231 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera. He was booked on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, with bail set at $1,500.

His wife, Irene, telephoned police that she had pulled an eight-inch carving knife from the hand of her husband after he tried to stab her in the chest.

Mrs. Jordan sustained a stab wound in the hand. She was treated at Marin General Hospital.

She told Corte Madera Patrolman Charles E. Newman her husband returned from work at 4 p.m. yesterday and began quarreling. She said at about 9 p.m. he entered her bedroom, said, "this is your last night to live," and lunged at her with the knife.

In 1646 a scythe manufacturer, Joseph Jenkes, received this country's first machine patent, for equipment used in his water-driven mill.

School Study Unit Agrees On 2 Aims

Two points which will be included in its final report were agreed on last week by the Novato Citizen Committee To Study School Aims.

These are:

1. Each student should have an equal opportunity to achieve maximum development of his capacities.

2. Parental responsibility is as important as the three R's. It should be a "fourth R."

The committee holds public meetings from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. each Thursday in the Novato School Administration Building.

Floating Sausalito Apartments Protested

Three protests have been received in connection with plans of Albert-Lovett Corp. of El Cerrito to build the Cote D'Azure Apartments and a floating dock at South Street and Alexander Avenue, Sausalito, the Army Enginees District in San Francisco reports.

As result of this, decision will be withheld for analysis of the reasonableness of the protests which were understood to include some grounds other than the navigational basis which is the sole point the engineers will consider. Decision was said to be likely any time between a week and a month.

New Motel Definition Requested

The Corte Madera Planning Commission last night proposed a new definition of motels be incorporated in the town's zoning ordinance.

The proposed new definition states that not more than 40 per cent of the units in a motel may have kitchens. Planning commissioners proposed some change in definition be made after they approved a 109-unit motel adjacent to Edgewater Inn with misgivings that it might prove to be an apartment house rather than a motel.

The commission recommended the town council rezone a 37,000-square foot area between Marina Village and Mariner Cove on Paradise Drive from single family to apartment use.

The planners set an adjourned meeting for Jan. 22 to take up other matters which were on last night's agenda. Included is an application for a use permit from co-op markets for a store on the east side of Paradise Drive just south of the Corte Madera overpass for Highway 101.

Fire Chairman Is Elected In Marinwood

Western Pacific Railroad executive Robert Morris last night was elected chairman of the Marinwood fire commission, replacing David Dryfoos, who resigned last month.

Morris has served as a Marinwood fire commissioner for seven months. He resides at 651 Idylberry Road.

The commission last night also drew up a resolution "defining the authority, responsibility and accountability of the fire commission to the Marinwood Community Services District," according to chairman Howard Council of the community services district.

Council said that the resolution, "involves the personnel and equipment of the fire department as well as the strengthening of the fire commission." It will be presented at the Jan. 18 meeting of the services district board.

The meeting was followed by a closed session devoted to "a discussion of but no definitive action on" the status of Fire Chief Donald Ray, said council.

Council said the fire commission plans to hold a public session to draw up a recommendations to submit to the community services district board regarding Ray. Ray was put on probation by the fire commissioners last summer. His probationary period expired Dec. 24.

Treated For Pill Overdose

A 23-year-old San Rafael man, suffering from unemployment and a liver ailment, was treated at San Rafael General Hospital yesterday for an overdose of sleeping pills.

Police said Walter Vincent Burke was taken to the hospital at 12:13 p.m. after his wife, Marlene Ann Burke, reported he had swallowed the pills when she told him they could get no further assistance from the welfare department.

Molotov Is Delayed In Moscow

VIENNA (UPI)—The return of former Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to resume his atoms-for-peace post was delayed today. He still has not left Moscow.

Molotov had been expected back here momentarily to again take up his post as second in command of the Soviet delegation to the International Atomic Energy Authority.

But the Soviet Foreign Min that Molotov was "still here in Moscow and would be leaving shortly."

A ministry spokesman said he was making the announcement to clarify the earlier report of Molotov's return to his post, which he said had caused some confusion.

eral weeks ago Fusselman told Bruce to divide his time 80 per cent civil defense, 20 per cent administrative duties.

"He should spend 20 per cent on bomb shelters and 80 per cent on business of the county," said Behr. His colleagues went along with the idea that neither on the country nor federal level do "bomb shelters" seem presently to offer much scope.

But in shaping the resolution for unanimous passage, it was agreed that "civil defense" should be substituted for "bomb shelters" as appropriate field for perhaps one-fifth of Bruce's efforts for awhile.

Bruce said today he was prepared to move promptly back to former quarters, and that Mrs. Smith would take Room 300 with equal speed.

"It's wonderful!" said Mrs. Smith. "I'm ready to go right this very minute. For me, that space will be just right and mighty necessary."

American Sculptor Haseltine Dies

Haseltine was famous for his statues of animals, including a 3,000 pound bronze statue of the racehorse Man O' War which now stands in Lexington, Ky. Among his more recent works is an equestrian statue of George Washington in front of the National Cathedral in Washington, D.C.

Funeral services will be held Thursday in Paris, with burial scheduled for Rome.

Salesman Jailed For Stab Attempt

Arrested was Allan Randolph Jordan of 231 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera. He was booked on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, with bail set at $1,500.

His wife, Irene, telephoned police that she had pulled an eight-inch carving knife from the hand of her husband after he tried to stab her in the chest.

Mrs. Jordan sustained a stab wound in the hand. She was treated at Marin General Hospital.

She told Corte Madera Patrolman Charles E. Newman her husband returned from work at 4 p.m. yesterday and began quarreling. She said at about 9 p.m. he entered her bedroom, said, "this is your last night to live," and lunged at her with the knife.

In 1646 a scythe manufacturer, Joseph Jenkes, received this country's first machine patent, for equipment used in his water-driven mill.

How Gina's Low, Husky Voice Helps Save Our A.F. Bombers In Trouble

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lt. Col. Henry Deutschendorf and his crew were bringing their eight-jet B-58 bomber down at Carswell Air Force Base in Texas.

The weather was bad, radar guided his approach. Suddenly a woman's low, husky voice whispered a warning in his ear.

He looked, and sure enough, two engines had flamed out.

His crew had heard the warnings, too, in time to trim the ship properly for the landing.

The voice came from a little black box in the giant bomber's instrument panel. The eight-pound box, a miniature tape recorder, was hooked up with the panel's system of warning lights. When the engines flamed out, the box began playing a recording.

The voice belongs to Gina Drazin, a pert and pretty secretary in the plant where the black box was made—Nortronics Division of Northrop Corp.

Gina's voice was chosen primarily because it is low and husky.

"I've had no voice training," says Gina. "I can't carry a tune in a basket—my voice is pitched too low. But I guess that's why it was chosen—high-pitched voices fade out on aircraft intercoms."

If low pitch was needed, why wasn't a man's voice used?

The voice warning, called Vips — for Voice Interruption Priority System—is being installed in all B-58 bombers because pilot attention can be diverted from the panel lights by a number of emergencies. He may overlook visual signals but tests show pilot response to Gina's dulcet tones is immediate.

DRY WEATHER AT FAULT

5 Forest Fires Erupt In State

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Forest and brush fires, normally a summer and fall threat, erupted south and north of San Francisco yesterday.

One fire in the Santa Cruz Mountains blackened 1,000 acres and was still going strong.

Five fires were reported, four to the south of San Francisco, and one in Lake County to the north.

No one was reported hurt and no structures were burned.

Dry weather and the highest temperatures ever recorded for a January day in this part of California, 79 in San Francisco, helped give the fires their start. Ocean breezes fanned them along.

The big Santa Cruz Mountains fire started in the Gazos Creek area and moved to the Waddell Creek district bordering Big Basin State Park about 23 miles northwest of Santa Cruz.

Ranger Les Gum said no homes were threatened but prime oak, redwood and other timber was being burned over. Gum said about 70 men were on the lines and that more were coming.

Gum said last night the fire was far from controlled—"It's still going, and strong."

The biggest fire in a decade in San Mateo County burned near Kings Mountain, blacking over 1,100 acres of mostly brush.

State Fire Dispatcher Karl Weidel said a fire camp had been set up and a call had been sent out for more men. "We've got them still coming so I don't know exactly how many are here yet," Weidel said last night. He added control of the fire seemed unlikely until late today. No buildings were immediately threatened.

In Santa Cruz County about nine miles south of Los Gatos, fire fighters had cut off another brush-timber fire after it had burned over 200 acres.

Asst. Ranger Dick LeBell said "the head's but cut off, the wind's in our favor and we've got a flanking action going that we hope will contain it."

LeBell said residences in Aldercroft Heights were no longer threatened.

A third Santa Cruz Mountain blaze has burned over 30 acres near Warrenella about 10 miles northwest of Santa Cruz. Observers said chances of containing it were "nip and tuck."

The Lake County fire atop a forested ridge near Lucerne was controlled after eight hours. It burned eight acres.

$206 In Construction Tools Reported Stolen

An estimated $206 worth of wheelbarrows, shovels, a mortar stand and high pressure hose was reported stolen over the weekend from a construction job at Marin Bay on San Marino Drive in San Rafael.

Reporting the theft was Edward Thomas Kreger, partner in the masonry contracting firm of Kreger and Petty of 21 St. Johns Court, Novato. The theft, Kreger told police, was discovered yesterday morning.

Requesting the supervision is Felix M. Warburg, architect for Dr. and Mrs. Russell J. Merret of 75 Rock Road, Kentfield, owners of the property.

The commission will also consider a request for architectural supervision for the Larkspur Plaza and a variance in the Greenbrae subdivision for 16 front setbacks.

LIFE SAVINGS OVERLOOKED BY THIEVES

Two juveniles snatched the purse and the money while Mrs. West strolled near her home last night.

Policemen Lee McVeigh and Roy Beebe found the rifled purse in a vacant lot two blocks away. Mrs. West's wallet was missing.

But in the bottom of the purse, overlooked by the thieves, was the $1,400.

Gifts Of Rare Blood Sought For Pastor's Wife

The Marin Blood Center tomorrow will seek gifts of blood for Mrs. Lenna Read, wife of Rev. Francis W. Read, rector of St. Columba's Episcopal Church in Inverness.

Mrs. Read is to undergo open heart surgery Thursday at University of California's Hospital in San Francisco.

Fifteen pints of rare HH negative blood is needed for Mrs. Read, the Marin Blood Center announced today. Only 15 per cent of the population has this type of blood, the center said.

The blood center will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. tomorrow at 506 Fourth Street. It keeps the same hours each Monday, Wednesday and Friday for donations, and Tuesday and Thursday for information and reservations.

Larkspur School District trustees will take up plans for the 1962 summer school program at their meeting today at 7:30 p.m. at the district office.

Congo Leftists Disclaim Lumumba Heir Gizenga

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Antoine Gizenga's political party today disclaimed his leadership as moderate forces converged for a showdown to oust Gizenga from an active role in the Congolese government.

Felicien Kimway, vice president of Gizenga's African Solidarity party, announced that Gizenga is no longer president of the party.

Kimway's announcement followed a resolution by Parliament yesterday demanding that Gizenga — a deputy premier backed by the Communist bloc —return from self-imposed exile in Stanleyville to answer parliamentary accusations of secessionism.

The vote indicated clearly that disenchantment is growing among those leftists who once supported Gizenga as the legal head of the Congolese government after Patrice Lumumba's death.

If Gizenga fails to return, observers felt action might be started to oust him from the post of deputy premier he accepted last August in the central government of Premier Cyrille Adoula.

Gizenga has secluded himself in Stanleyville for months. Reports from that northeast Congo city indicate he has lost much of his local and even foreign support.

In a resolution approved yesterday by a vote of 66-10 with seven abstentions, the central Congolese Parliament gave Gizenga 48 hours after notification by Premier Cyrille Adoula's government to reach Leopoldville.

During the heated debate, deputies accused Gizenga of secessionist activities in Stanleyville and refusing government demands to return here and take up his post. The resolution was introduced by a member of Gizenga's own party, which obviously misses his leadership in the capital.

As the self-proclaimed political heir to slain Premier Patrice Lumumba, Gizenga was recognized for months by the Communist bloc and some neutralists as The Congo's legal premier. After Parliament met last summer and confirmed Adoula as premier, Gizenga's leftist supporters gradually deserted him.

How Gina's Low, Husky Voice Helps Save Our A.F. Bombers In Trouble

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lt. Col. Henry Deutschendorf and his crew were bringing their eight-jet B-58 bomber down at Carswell Air Force Base in Texas.

The weather was bad, radar guided his approach. Suddenly a woman's low, husky voice whispered a warning in his ear.

He looked, and sure enough, two engines had flamed out.

His crew had heard the warnings, too, in time to trim the ship properly for the landing.

The voice came from a little black box in the giant bomber's instrument panel. The eight-pound box, a miniature tape recorder, was hooked up with the panel's system of warning lights. When the engines flamed out, the box began playing a recording.

The voice belongs to Gina Drazin, a pert and pretty secretary in the plant where the black box was made—Nortronics Division of Northrop Corp.

Gina's voice was chosen primarily because it is low and husky.

"I've had no voice training," says Gina. "I can't carry a tune in a basket—my voice is pitched too low. But I guess that's why it was chosen—high-pitched voices fade out on aircraft intercoms."

If low pitch was needed, why wasn't a man's voice used?

The voice warning, called Vips — for Voice Interruption Priority System—is being installed in all B-58 bombers because pilot attention can be diverted from the panel lights by a number of emergencies. He may overlook visual signals but tests show pilot response to Gina's dulcet tones is immediate.

It's too bad the recording conveys only Gina's soft voice. Her other attributes—34-26-36, blue eyes, brown hair and a quick smile—are equally attention grabbing.

5 Forest Fires Erupt In State

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Forest and brush fires, normally a summer and fall threat, erupted south and north of San Francisco yesterday.

One fire in the Santa Cruz Mountains blackened 1,000 acres and was still going strong.

Five fires were reported, four to the south of San Francisco, and one in Lake County to the north.

No one was reported hurt and no structures were burned.

Dry weather and the highest temperatures ever recorded for a January day in this part of California, 79 in San Francisco, helped give the fires their start. Ocean breezes fanned them along.

The big Santa Cruz Mountains fire started in the Gazos Creek area and moved to the Waddell Creek district bordering Big Basin State Park about 23 miles northwest of Santa Cruz.

Ranger Les Gum said no homes were threatened but prime oak, redwood and other timber was being burned over. Gum said about 70 men were on the lines and that more were coming.

Gum said last night the fire was far from controlled—"It's still going, and strong."

The biggest fire in a decade in San Mateo County burned near Kings Mountain, blacking over 1,100 acres of mostly brush.

State Fire Dispatcher Karl Weidel said a fire camp had been set up and a call had been sent out for more men. "We've got them still coming so I don't know exactly how many are here yet," Weidel said last night. He added control of the fire seemed unlikely until late today. No buildings were immediately threatened.

In Santa Cruz County about nine miles south of Los Gatos, fire fighters had cut off another brush-timber fire after it had burned over 200 acres.

Asst. Ranger Dick LeBell said "the head's but cut off, the wind's in our favor and we've got a flanking action going that we hope will contain it."

LeBell said residences in Aldercroft Heights were no longer threatened.

A third Santa Cruz Mountain blaze has burned over 30 acres near Warrenella about 10 miles northwest of Santa Cruz. Observers said chances of containing it were "nip and tuck."

The Lake County fire atop a forested ridge near Lucerne was controlled after eight hours. It burned eight acres.

$206 In Construction Tools Reported Stolen

An estimated $206 worth of wheelbarrows, shovels, a mortar stand and high pressure hose was reported stolen over the weekend from a construction job at Marin Bay on San Marino Drive in San Rafael.

Reporting the theft was Edward Thomas Kreger, partner in the masonry contracting firm of Kreger and Petty of 21 St. Johns Court, Novato. The theft, Kreger told police, was discovered yesterday morning.

Larkspur Planners Meeting Tonight

Requesting the supervision is Felix M. Warburg, architect for Dr. and Mrs. Russell J. Merret of 75 Rock Road, Kentfield, owners of the property.

The commission will also consider a request for architectural supervision for the Larkspur Plaza and a variance in the Greenbrae subdivision for 16 front setbacks.

LIFE SAVINGS OVERLOOKED BY THIEVES

Two juveniles snatched the purse and the money while Mrs. West strolled near her home last night.

Policemen Lee McVeigh and Roy Beebe found the rifled purse in a vacant lot two blocks away. Mrs. West's wallet was missing.

But in the bottom of the purse, overlooked by the thieves, was the $1,400.

Congo Leftists Disclaim Lumumba Heir Gizenga

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Antoine Gizenga's political party today disclaimed his leadership as moderate forces converged for a showdown to oust Gizenga from an active role in the Congolese government.

Felicien Kimway, vice president of Gizenga's African Solidarity party, announced that Gizenga is no longer president of the party.

Kimway's announcement followed a resolution by Parliament yesterday demanding that Gizenga — a deputy premier backed by the Communist bloc —return from self-imposed exile in Stanleyville to answer parliamentary accusations of secessionism.

The vote indicated clearly that disenchantment is growing among those leftists who once supported Gizenga as the legal head of the Congolese government after Patrice Lumumba's death.

If Gizenga fails to return, observers felt action might be started to oust him from the post of deputy premier he accepted last August in the central government of Premier Cyrille Adoula.

Gizenga has secluded himself in Stanleyville for months. Reports from that northeast Congo city indicate he has lost much of his local and even foreign support.

In a resolution approved yesterday by a vote of 66-10 with seven abstentions, the central Congolese Parliament gave Gizenga 48 hours after notification by Premier Cyrille Adoula's government to reach Leopoldville.

During the heated debate, deputies accused Gizenga of secessionist activities in Stanleyville and refusing government demands to return here and take up his post. The resolution was introduced by a member of Gizenga's own party, which obviously misses his leadership in the capital.

As the self-proclaimed political heir to slain Premier Patrice Lumumba, Gizenga was recognized for months by the Communist bloc and some neutralists as The Congo's legal premier. After Parliament met last summer and confirmed Adoula as premier, Gizenga's leftist supporters gradually deserted him.

Supervisors Vote On Marin Rapid Transit

A rapid transit resolution passed by Marin County supervisors yesterday served notice of an intended effort for new legislation to cover the special situation of this county.

It said that this year's state legislature will be asked to enact special emergency legislation so that Marin County can remain in the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, but will be excluded from taxes for district bonds if rapid transit facilities do not enter Marin.

Disapproving the recent "final plan" of the district (later withdrawn), the resolution asked that all questions be resolved as soon as possible and gave assurance of "prompt cooperative consideration by this board of supervisors" when this has been done.

Support by the district of Marin's legislative effort to cover its peculiar position due to uncertainty over rapid transit use of the Golden Gate Bridge was asked by the resolution.

Supervisors William Gnoss, who moved adoption of the resolution and won unanimous support, was successful in getting inclusion of a paragraph recommending that if rapid transit facilities enter Marin they be extended to Novato.

Unlike many of his rodent cousins, the ground hog does not store food for the winter. Instead, he fattens on greens all summer and autumn. Then he sleeps through the cold months, resting up for another war on spring vegetation.

Board Of Supervisors May Again Hold All-Day Sessions Tuesdays

County Supervisor Walter R. Castro, just back as chairman of Marin County supervisors after a year on the sidelines, acted yesterday to restore the former practice of Tuesday all-day sessions.

Under the chairmanship of William D. Fusselman the practice had been to meet Monday and Tuesday afternoons. Castro asked the three members present (Fusselman was absent) whether they'd go for the old system.

Supervisor George Ludy confessed that it would be "rough" to get into San Rafael by 9 a.m. Tuesdays from Inverness, but Peter Behr liked the idea, and William Gnoss felt "we accomplish more in one day." When George S. Jones suggested that 9:30 a.m. opening would ease the pressure on Ludy, the idea met general approval.

Uncertainty prevailed as to whether the former system could prevail within the 30 days required for a new ordinance.

It was agreed to meet as scheduled at 1 p.m. today and meanwhile consult the county counsel as to legality of moving next week to the all-day plan on a basis of continued meetings, with regular Tuesday morning scheduling only after the ordinance becomes effective next month.

The supervisors also:

1. Voted $500, already provided by budget, for the Marin Rod and Gun Club's annual sport and boat show.

2. Received documents from county counsel on Kay Park Sewer Maintenance District No. 2 annexation and set hearing for Jan. 30.

3. Authorized transfer of a jeep to the Stinson Beach Fire Department, and a truck to the City of Mill Valley.

4. Learned from county counsel that by action of the legislature all boards of supervisors are required to appoint advisory committees of residents to report within six months on changing boundaries of supervisorial districts, but deferred action.

5. Received a lengthy letter on civil defense from Ward H. Austin of Larkspur, appealing for "real leadership" and asking a fulltime director.

Former Policeman Making Model Of Old Brigantine

The two-masted brigantine, Galilee, which sits in the mud on Sausalito's watery Mono Street, is being copied in a model to be placed in a San Francisco museum.

The 33-inch model is being made by former San Francisco policeman Austin Keegan, who has spent much time in Sausatlito sketching and studying the original while building his copy from plans he found in an 1897 magazine.

The Galilee, Keegan said, was launched in Benicia in 1901. It is one of the last of its type in the Bay Area, and was known by Keegan when it was on a mail run from San Francisco to Papeete, returning from Tahiti with oranges.

It also sailed to the Bering Sea and brought codfish back to a plant in Belvedere.

He sailed with his father to Tahiti on a similar ship, the schooner Solano, he said.

Sausalito harbormaster Sidney Foster said the ship has been in Belvedere and Sausalito for about 50 years.

Marin City Subdivision Map Is Approved

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday approved the subdivision map of James Scheuer of New York for private development of the remaining 90 acres in Marin City within the county redevelopmentgaency shrl ?..a shrdlu opment agency property.

The subdivision covers all the remaining lands, commercial, multiple, single family and other lands not previously subdivided except school sites.

The plans were approved with minor exceptions.

A request and counter-requests of late in the Meadowsweet area were continued until the next meeting Jan. 22.

Frank S. Southerland had asked rezoning of 3.14 acres from limited agricultural to multiple residence district.

The planning commission proposed to rezone the Southerland property, at the northwest corner of Meadow Valley Road and Highway 101 Frontage road, and 1.36 acres of adjoining land into a planned residential district.

The properties are adjacent to the Corte Madera city line, across which apartments have been constructed.

The counter-proposal of owners of 63 parcels in the area, for rezoning all to single family residential with minimum lot size of 20,000 square feet. This proposal will have its first hearing at the next meeting.

The commission passed to the board of supervisors a finding that the only apparent way of preserving the open waterfront area between the Tiburon business district and the children's fishing pier was to include the land in a park area.

The commission was advised by county counsel that a temporary holding-type ordinance would probably be illegal. It decided that applying an "open-air" zoning would be inequitable.

In other actions the commission:

1. Continued a resolution to amend the Tiburon Master Plan by change in the proposed Ridge Route road above El Marinero.

2. Asked Gloria Westenberg to redesign a proposed structure for the rear of 1785 Centro West, Tiburon, to conform more nearly to setback lines.

3. Approved a proposal to rezone private lands in Marin City from planned community district to one family residential.

4. Continued until next meeting discussion of proposed Wildlife Acres subdivision 7 miles north of Bolinas.

5. Denied four out of 25 requests from Del Mar Estates for change in front and side setbacks of lots due to slope problems.

6. Approved plans for a 15 acre Vineyard Terrace subdivision west of Novato.

7. Denied request of Nina P. Brandt for use of home on 4.6 acre lot at 20 Rainbow Road, Los Ranchitos, for use as summer recreation area for handicapped children and adults.

McNally, Goheen Are Re-Elected

Omar E. McNally was re-elected chairman of the Marin County Housing Authority yesterday and George C. Goheen Sr. re-elected vice chairman.

The two men were re-elected also to the Marin County Redevelopment Agency, Goheen as chairman and McNally as vice chairman.

National Seashore Battle Rages In Board's Chambers

Strenuous effort was made yesterday to bring the Marin County Board of Supervisors into a position of backing the proposed national seashore on the Point Reyes Peninsula. It never got off the ground.

Net result of a long wrangle was to bring continuance to 3 p.m. today because Supervisor William D. Fusselman was absent due to illness and only a "full board" makes policy decisions.

Fusselman, suffering from fever and cough, said last night he didn't expect to be present today nor could he see that his presence would be useful. Last year Fusselman and two others backed Supervisor George Ludy of Inverness, only Supervisor Walter R. Castro dissenting, in opposing a 53,000-acre seashore and setting 20,000 acres as the highest tolerable limit.

During the recent recall campaign Peter Behr made the seashore an issue though it is not in his district. Yesterday he pushed for endorsement of a 26,000-acre national seashore.

Ludy, backed by a delegation of Point Reyes ranchers, refused to go along, although Ludy said the extra 6,000 acres wasn't too important.

Dr. Joel Gustafson, president of the Point Reyes National Seashore Foundation, led off with a lengthy discussion. He asked a supervisorial "letter of approval" in time for a House subcommittee meeting Jan. 15. Both he and Behr said this was a deadline of significance.

Attorney Bryan McCarthy as spokesman for the rancher group said he could see no importance to the Jan. 15 date, nor safeguards for the ranchers in the bill as it now stands.

Long and bitter McCarthy-Behr controversy resulted in each expressing "shock" over the other's attitude.

When finally Joseph Mendoza got the floor as a rancher spokesman, he protested that "there seems an awful urgency for speed."

"But the big urgency," he went on, "is for the people who have their lives and sweat in their properties on Point Reyes. Their savings are invested and we feel that this bill doesn't give protection.

"We want to be let alone, but if we can't, at least we want to be sure we get a fair deal."

"I was under the impression that Washington hearings had been closed," said Ludy, "also that when we took our 4-1 vote we closed the matter here. You (Behr and Gustafson) are absolutely wrong about the ranchers' views."

McCarthy said nothing in the bill provides that if the ranchers want to quit dairying they can count on the government to buy their properties. Ludy hit at the restrictions on sale for other than dairying.

"If you buy stocks and bonds for your old age, you can sell as you please," he said. "I think it's utterly unfair that these people who bought land 30 or 35 years ago shall lose their right to sell profitably."

When Behr finally moved to have the matter put on this afternoon's agenda, Ludy countered that if Fusselman were again absent "I'll not vote."

Sausalito Schools Get Stocks Gift

Sausalito School District trustees last night accepted a gift of 100 shares of stock from F. B. Hitchcock of Sausalito, to be used to purchase of musical instruments for Central School.

Hitchcock lives at 601 Sausalito Boulevard and has children at the school.

Supt. Marcus F. Davis said the stocks are shares of Western Development Co. and represent approximately $600.

Trustees approved a request for maternity leave to Mrs. Diane Ellison, second grade teacher at Central School, effective Jan. 29. They also hired Mrs. Sandra Bangsward to teach second grade at Manzanita School. Mrs. Bangsward, who has taught four years in New York City, will replace Mrs. Bernadette Baraty, who left at the end of December on maternity leave.

Union School Looks Into Petaluma Annex

Trustees of Union Elementary School District last night discussed that district's joining Petaluma High School District, but took no action to start an annexation, in a meeting at the home of trustee Elvina Giacomelli.

The Union School has 14 students this year. The trustees paid the semester tuition of $570 for three Union students attending Petaluma High.

School District Books In Order At San Jose

San Jose Elementary School District books are in good order, the district's trustees were told last night by the firm of Dalton, Graupner and Barber, auditors of San Rafael.

The auditors complimented the district in its method of keeping its books in their report, according to Supt. Phillip Schneider.

The trustees adopted a workmen's compensation formula for teachers of the district. If a teacher is injured and receives workmen's compensation, the district will make up the difference between the compensation and the regular salary. However, the district will count proportionate amount of time off sick leave.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Elaine McCardel of 366 Tennessee Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, and Denton S. Winn of Petaluma, as effective last Dec. 31. These teachers were involved in a love triangle at Mrs. McCardell's apartment Nov. 26 and resigned Dec. 6.

In other action, the board:

1. Named trustee Daniel Barber as a member of the salary committee of the San Jose Teachers Assn., at request of that organization.

2. Denied one unit of college credit for a first aid course given to 13 teachers at Meadow Park School.

School Announces Plan For Funds

This is "Save-the-Actors' Workshop Week" for students at Marin Catholic High School. Under leadership of their campus fine arts commission, students at the school are supporting the efforts of the San Francisco Actors' Workshop to raise $39,000 to qualify for a Ford Foundation grant.

At the request of Sue Denman, chairman of the fine arts commission, "Save-the-Actors' Workshop Week" was proclaimed for this week by Mayor John F. McInnis of San Rafael and (former) chairman of the board of supervisors, William D. Fusselman.

If funds are not sufficient, the workshop group will have to close, according to students.

BANG! BANG! POLICE REALLY GOT MESSAGE

NEW YORK (AP) — Bang, bang, bang, bang, bang and bang!

Six shots rang out and the Wells Fargo truck carrying $45,000 through lower Manhattan screeched to a stop.

Holdup? Nope.

Police said the shots were fired last night by Victor Maher, 54, a messenger riding inside the truck. He was intoxicated, police said.

The Brooklyn man and a guard riding with him received superficial wounds from shattered glass, police said. Maher was charged with felonious assault.

Two Of Model's Men Friends Being Sought

Investigators of the Marin district attorney's office are trying to question at least two men acquaintances of San Francisco model Antoinette (Toni) Wahlen, 23, who is accused of killing her newborn son and leaving the body in a Sausalito garbage can last month.

One is a young soldier attached to the 24th Infantry Division in Germany, who flew back to this country and visited the beautiful model at Marin General Hospital where she is under treatment. He is Charles Draney of Hillsborough, son of C. T. Draney, Bechtel Corp. executive.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety said today investigators want to talke to Draney to see what light if any he can shed on the tragedy.

Inspector Donald E. Midyett of Garety's office said both men have been "hard to find."

Miss Wahlen's attorney, Albert E. Bagshaw, disclosed today that the young model may be freed on $20,000 bail either tonight or tomorrow. He said the girl's parents in San Mateo had arranged a loan to post the bail and needed only a co-signer to complete the loan.

If the bail is posted, the sheriff's 24-hour guard that keeps watch over Miss Wahlen at Marin General Hospital can be taken off duty. She is scheduled to appear in Marin Superior Court Monday for arraignment on the murder charge. District Attorney Garety has announced he will not seek the death penalty.

Dixie Trustees To Inspect School

Dixie School District trustees will inspect the newly completed Don Timoteo School tomorrow night, holding their board meeting at 8 p.m. in the school's library.

They will also discuss proposals for another new school —at Las Gallinas Avenue and Miller Creek Road in Marinwood, for seventh and eighth grades.

A recommendation for acoustical treatment of the multi-use room at Hoffman School will be discussed.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis will recommend addition of two teachers to handle the increasing enrollment in the district.

Valhalla Burglary Now Set At Only $2 Of $3

Susan Boynton, bookkeeper at the Valhalla Inn in Sausalito, told police yesterday that actual loss in burglary of the Valhalla on Jan. 6 was between $2 and $3 and not $100 and an adding machine as had been reported.

Mrs. Boynton said she had taken the adding machine home to do some work and had hidden the petty cash, but had not informed the Maitre d' Hotel, Henri De Gorog.

First And Last On Wall Street

NEW YORK (UPI) — Kidder, Peabody and Co. was the first member firm to take offices in the New York Stock Exchange building at 17 Wall Street and will be the last to leave.

The company's move to 20 Exchange Place terminates a lease that began in 1910.

Trustees Get Kent School Master Plan

A master plan for development of A. E. Kent School was laid before Kentfield School District trustees last night.

The plan includes an additional classroom in the primary wing to house the class now being transported to Wolfe Grade School; a library and a science room which will release the present library and science room for regular classroom usage. It also shows remodeling the existing toilet facilities and a design for pedestrian and vehicle traffic patterns and relocation of parking areas.

Presenting the plan was architect Peter Skaer of the firm of Corlett and Spackman. No action on the plan was taken by the board until further study.

In other business, the trustees:

1. Were told by Skaer that the Wolfe Grade School addition should be ready for occupancy by the first week in February.

2. Directed Supt. Howard C. Harmon to explore possibilities of acquiring a portion of Stadium Way which crosses the Kent School grounds from the Marin Junior College District which lies between the two main buildings of Kent School.

3. Approved an additional fourth grade class and another fifth grade class at Wolfe Grade School. The classes will be composed of some fourth and fifth graders now attending Kent and Greenbrae schools who live nearer to Wolfe Grade School. The classes will begin in February.

4. Approved a policy that states every effort will be made to limit class size to 30 pupils. Transfers will be made from schools when necessary to balance class loads.

DIRECTIONAL SIGN FOR SEMINARY IS SOUGHT

The Strawberry Property Owners Assn. voted last night to ask the California Division of Highways for a directional sign on the northbound lane of Richardson Bay Bridge reading "Golden Gate Seminary."

Paul Mason, seminary business manager and a director of the association, asked that this be done to eliminate confusion people have trying to find the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary at Strawberry Point.

Directors discussed illegal dumping in Strawberry and president C. W. Young advised he would meet with county Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham to investigate law enforcement.

APARTMENT PLANS

Novato Planners Hear Zoning Plea Protests

A crowd of nearly 100 people protested two proposed apartment house developments last night at the Novato Planning Commission meeting in the community building.

Requests by the Sutter Development Co. for a zone change to multiple dwellings for 42 acres south and east of Lynwood Park, and by Crown Development Co. for similar rezoning for 18 acres west of Yukon Way, were both continued until April 9.

The planning commission set hearings on Jan. 22 and Feb. 26 on the land use of the proposed new master plan. The commission has been working on the master plan since last August.

Protestants were given a period to speak but were told to return to the April 9 meeting. A show of hands revealed 35 opposed to the Sutter proposal and nearly 60 to the Crown Development Proposal. Residents of Lynwood Park and Rancho Village, both single-family residential developments, were against the two apartment developments.

In other action, the commission:

1. Approved the final map of Sutter Hills unit one for single family dwellings, south of and east of Lynwood Park.

2. Approved the final map of Sunny Acres subdivision of J. R. Fahlstrom at the end of Cherry Street.

3. Canceled its scheduled meeting Feb. 12, because of Lincoln's birthday, and set a special meeting on Feb. 5 to study the land use plan.

4. Set a policy that no fence six feet high or under would need a building permit, and fences higher than that would require a variance.

5. Granted Frank Valim permission to construct a 40 by 50 foot building at 859 Vallejo Street for the Novato Glass Co.

Wife Orders Mate Arrested

A San Rafael woman early today ordered police to arrest her husband after he allegedly struck her and destroyed furniture in their apartment at 1028 Gamos Street.

George Henry Kuhlmann, 27, was booked on charges of assault and battery, disturbing the peace and drunkenness about 3 a.m. after his wife, Beverly Darlene Kuhlmann, signed a citizens' complaint. She told police she feared for the safety of their four children after he struck her.

Mrs. Kuhlmann told police her husband had trned over and broken a hi-fi set, a marble coffee table and a lamp valued at $200. Kuhlmann was held in lieu of $498 bail and ordered to appear in municipal court today.

when Jimmy grows as big as his shadow

. . . the free world he lives in will be using almost a million gallons of petroleum every minute.

That's about 60% more than it uses today—by 1971.

Where will it all come from?

From hundreds of places on earth you might never expect oil to exist. Right now, for example, Standard's exploration teams are probing the ocean floor many miles out to sea . . . trekking across Arabian deserts, marked "inaccessible" on maps.

Others are climbing over glaciers in Alaska, pushing through the snow into the frozen interior of Canada, slogging through the jungles of Latin America.

In the last ten years, geologists from Standard and its affiliates explored in 47 countries on six continents.

Is the search paying off?

Yes. In the United States alone, we found two new barrels of oil for every barrel we took out of the ground.

The search will continue to help make certain that Jimmy and his generation will have the oil they need for an ever-expanding number of homes, cars, mechanized farms and industries . . . and provide chemicals from petroleum that will help make possible more exciting new products.

said the pony had been given him "a couple of months ago."

"Is it not true that you told Billy Newman that you would show him a liar and have him in juvenile court if he went against you in this trial?" Vallarino demanded.

"No," said George. He denied he had discussed the case with the Newman boy since the day of the raid.

The case was expected to go to the jury tomorrow morning.

During Weissich's questioning of George Sequeira yesterday afternoon, the defense attorney touched on the admittedly close friendship of George and Patricia Neumann, 21, attractive brunette neighbor of the Sequeiras who called county officials who raided the ranch Oct. 25.

"It would appear that Mr. Weissich is attempting to impeach his own witness," Vallarino suggested to Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

"I am only trying to impeach the testimony she gave when she was Mr. Vallarino's witness," Weissich quipped. "Who knows where we may stand tomorrow?"

Weissich had reference to the bombshell dropped yesterday by Miss Neumann when she repudiated her original testimony, given under oath on the opening day of the trial as the prosecution's star witness.

At that time, she testified she heard dogs "screaming and yelping" on the ranch, prompting her to call the sheriff.

Miss Neumann said she had been told by young Newman, that there were two strange dogs in the tack room and that he thought "something fishy" was going on.

After she called the sheriff, Miss Neumann testified last week she drove to the edge of the ranch and stood on the hood of her car to watch the raid over the fence. She said she saw Clem Sequeira run to the kennels leading a pitbull after someone cried "cops!"

Yesterday, again under oath, Miss Neumann said she had been mistaken about the whole incident.

A reenactment of the scene last Saturday night, at which Weissich and William Corrigan, an attorney associated with Weissich's office, were present, proved that all she could see was "shadows," she testified.

As to the cry of "cops!," Miss Neumann said the boys always called Joseph Sequiera "pops" and that was probably what she had heard.

She also explained the screaming of dogs. George, she told the jury yesterday, took her to the Humane Society in San Rafael a few nights ago and, standing outside the animal shelter grounds, called to Coley, one of the Sequeiras' pitbulls impounded there.

The answering cry from the dog was identical to the anguished sound she heard the night of the raid, she said.

Miss Neumann admitted on the opening day of the trial that she was in love with George, despite the fact his parents had ordered her to stay away from him because she was "a bad influence."

The bulk of yesterday's testimony dealt with the care and training of dogs—as hunters, not fighters.

Dr. Howard Clark, Petaluma veterinarian, said he owns pitbulls trained for hunting boar, bear, lions and varmints.

He was joined on the stand by Coley, the Sequeiras' oldest dog, whose lips are badly mangled. The wounds, Dr. Clark said, were inflicted by a wire fence separating the kennels at the Marinwood ranch.

He said a pitbull which was allowed to chew on stray dogs would be ruined as a hunter.

Jerry Boldon of San Jose, a boar hunter who bagged a wild pig with 7-inch tusks, said his pitbulls were taught not to fight by means of a remote-control electronic collar with which he gave them an electric jolt if they so much as growled at one another.

"I teach my dogs etiquette," Bolden said. "My daddy raised me right."

Michael McLean of 12 Center Street, San Rafael, testified he accompanied the Sequeira dogs on a boar hunt on Dec. 22. McLean, a special deputy sheriff who trains bloodhounds for searching for lost persons, said the Sequeira dogs were not vicious toward strange dogs during the hunt.

Bernard Weller, deputy pound keeper of 85 Crest Road, Novato, testified he recently assisted in exercising three of the Sequeira dogs and that they did not fight with each other while running loose.

Works of 18 New York painters will be on display at Tiburon's Quay Gallery from Jan. 18 to Feb. 11.

They represent work of experimental artists who have been active in establishing the 10th Street Art Movement, comparable to off-Broadway theater movement, according to gallery co-owner Jean Laurie.

Artists include three who now live in the Bay Area: Alva D'Orgeix of San Rafael, Myrna Harrison of Berkeley, and Earl Pierce of San Francisco.

The gallery is at 32 Main Street and is open from 1 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m., Thursday to Sunday.

Novato Highway Plan Display Set

Maps of the various proposed routes of Highway 101 through and around Novato will be on display by the California Division of Highways from 3 to 9 p.m. Thursday at the community building at 906 Machin Avenue.

Members of the highway staff will be on hand at all times to answer questions about the routes to the various property owners affected by them.

One week later, at 2 p.m., Jan. 18, a public hearing on these proposed routes will be held at the community building.

Dr. Hirabayashi is in the anthropology department of San Francisco State College and is a resident of Mill Valley.

Anyone interested in joining the class may register with U.C. Extension at Berkeley.

Pitbulls Defendent Tells Of Innocence

said the pony had been given him "a couple of months ago."

"Is it not true that you told Billy Newman that you would show him a liar and have him in juvenile court if he went against you in this trial?" Vallarino demanded.

"No," said George. He denied he had discussed the case with the Newman boy since the day of the raid.

The case was expected to go to the jury tomorrow morning.

During Weissich's questioning of George Sequeira yesterday afternoon, the defense attorney touched on the admittedly close friendship of George and Patricia Neumann, 21, attractive brunette neighbor of the Sequeiras who called county officials who raided the ranch Oct. 25.

"It would appear that Mr. Weissich is attempting to impeach his own witness," Vallarino suggested to Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

"I am only trying to impeach the testimony she gave when she was Mr. Vallarino's witness," Weissich quipped. "Who knows where we may stand tomorrow?"

Weissich had reference to the bombshell dropped yesterday by Miss Neumann when she repudiated her original testimony, given under oath on the opening day of the trial as the prosecution's star witness.

At that time, she testified she heard dogs "screaming and yelping" on the ranch, prompting her to call the sheriff.

Miss Neumann said she had been told by young Newman, that there were two strange dogs in the tack room and that he thought "something fishy" was going on.

After she called the sheriff, Miss Neumann testified last week she drove to the edge of the ranch and stood on the hood of her car to watch the raid over the fence. She said she saw Clem Sequeira run to the kennels leading a pitbull after someone cried "cops!"

Yesterday, again under oath, Miss Neumann said she had been mistaken about the whole incident.

A reenactment of the scene last Saturday night, at which Weissich and William Corrigan, an attorney associated with Weissich's office, were present, proved that all she could see was "shadows," she testified.

As to the cry of "cops!," Miss Neumann said the boys always called Joseph Sequiera "pops" and that was probably what she had heard.

She also explained the screaming of dogs. George, she told the jury yesterday, took her to the Humane Society in San Rafael a few nights ago and, standing outside the animal shelter grounds, called to Coley, one of the Sequeiras' pitbulls impounded there.

The answering cry from the dog was identical to the anguished sound she heard the night of the raid, she said.

IT'S COLD IN OKLAHOMA

Most of the midsection of the nation is shivering under severe cold conditions. Even in Tulsa, it's cold, as this snowman, if could it talk, would testify. And wouldn't you know a goat would come along to nibble at its carrot nose. Anyway, that's the way the photographer planned it. (AP Wirephoto)

ANOTHER FAIRFAX POLICEMAN URGED

Addition of a policeman in Fairfax was proposed last night by City Councilman Rolfe M. Ockenden.

The Fairfax police force now numbers six members, including Chief Clifton Cordes. The 1960 federal census showed a city population of 5,813.

Ockenden's proposal was taken under consideration by the other council members.

The council also took steps last night to provide a closed garage for the city's police car and motorcycle. Charles M. Thornton, public works superintendent, was instructed to get the project under way. The police vehicles are now housed in an open carport in the city corporation yard.

During discussion of police matters, Ockenden took occasion to object to a headline in the Independent-Journal of Jan. 2 which read, "Seven Officers Needed to Jail College Student." Ockenden admitted it was true that seven officers —including a Fairfax policeman—were involved in subduing and jailing the miscreant, but "they did it in relays, not all at once."

The council voted to reimburse three San Anselmo policemen for damage to their uniforms which were torn during the struggle described in the story.

The council decided to meet with property owners affected by the proposed forced drainage assessment district for downtown Fairfax before taking any further action on the district, but set no date for the meeting. The city has plans to revamp the entire downtown drainage system between Bolinas and Pacheco avenues.

Also at last night's Fairfax City Council meeting:

1. Property owners on Bolinas Road, who wrote to request that the city repair the street if the property owners repair the sidewalk, were assured that the job is part of the city's capital improvement program; although with no date yet scheduled for start of the work.

2. Councilman Stanley R. Wilsey was designated to represent the city at the governor's civil defense conference in Sacramento on Jan. 23; Councilman Clyde McKinney to be Fairfax representation at a Redwood Empire Assn. luncheon on Jan. 19, and Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar and Councilman McKinney to attend a dinner of the North Bay Division, League of California Cities, on Jan. 27.

3. Request of Dick Lash for a study of the efect of the off-street parking ordinance on his property at 4 Scenic Road was taken under advisement. Lash complained that he has no eccess to his lot from the street so has no way to park his car elsewhere than on the street shoulder.

4. Request of Walsh Lane residents that their street be scraped and rocks removed was likewise taken under advisement.

5. Similarly postponed was action on a request by the building inspector for adoption of the 1961 Uniform Building Code. Fairfax is still using the 1946 code.

6. On suggestion of Mayor Edgar, the council voted to spend $150 for new furniture for the firehouse day room.

7. The next council meeting was set for Feb. 13, the regular date of the second Monday of the month falling on Lincoln's Birthday, a legal holiday.

Belvedere Volunteers To Meet Tomorrow

Two mid-January events will be planned when the Belvedere Volunteer Fire Department meets Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Belvedere Firehouse, according to A. C. Anderson Jr., president.

Jan 19, the department will be host for the monthly meeting of the Marin Countys Firemen's Assn. The following night the volunteers will entertain their wives at the traditional annual dinner at the firehouse.

Sewer Plant Wall Mural Is Proposed

An informal proposal from directors of the Tiburon Chamber of Commerce that a mural be painted on the blank wall of the new sewage treatment plant at Mar West and Paradise Drive was taken under consideration by the Tiburon Sanitary District board last night.

Secretary Robert A. Sterling reported the proposal had been discussed at the chamber's board meeting Saturday. Chamber president James Murray had seen a public building decorated in this manner in Mexico and felt it would be a means of beautifying the area, Sterling said.

The sanitary board accepted the sewer in the Marinero units and granted Pacific Gas and Electric Co. a right-of-way for a gas line in the vicinity of the plant.

Traffic Fatalities In County Drop

The number of persons killed in traffic accidents on Marin highways during 1961 dropped 32 per cent from the previous year, Capt. Theodore F. Parnow of the California Highway Patrol office in San Rafael reported today.

There were 23 fatal accidents in Marin during 1960, with 28 killed. In 1961, the figures dropped to 17 fatal accidents and 19 killed.

The number of injury accidents rose from 572 in 1960 to 624 in 1961. Property damage accidents dropped from 985 in 1960 to 899 in 1961.

Final Marin City Plans Submitted

Final plans and costs of single-family houses and apartments to be built in the redevelopment area of Marin City were submitted to the Marin County Redevelopment Agency yesterday.

Revised figures, somewhat lower for apartment rentals than in a February 1961 schedule, were still called "proposed figures" by Chairman George C. Goheen.

The commission requested redeveloper James H. Scheuer's representative to submit facts and figures for formal approval at a special meeting Jan. 22.

Rent schedule for apartments, which are to be cooperatives with the apartment to be bought by the resident, are as follows:

One bedroom, 640 square feet, listed in February 1961 at $89.50 per month, now $92; two bedroom, 800 square feet, listed in 1961 at $115, now $102, and three bedroom, 1,122 square feet, once $125, now $117. Figures include water and garbage but not gas and electricity.

In these three categories, a total of 48 apartments are planned, with work to be started in April. They take a 40-year loan. Maximum gross income to be eligible for apartments is $7,500 for a three or four-member family, $6,400 for a two-person family, and $5,250 for a single person.

Costs of the 29 homes to be built in the first segment of redevelopment run from $15,200 to $17,200. In February 1961 only home price given was for a two-bedroom home to begin at $12,000. Yesterday, John Tolan, representing Barrett Construction Co. which is to build the development, said two-bedroom homes are economically unfeasible.

A four-bedroom, two-bath, 1,248-square-foot home is priced at from $17,000 to $17,200 with the buyer to pay $750 down if an FHA loan is taken or $150 for a GI loan.

A two-story, three-bedroom home, with one bath upstairs and one down, 1,180 square feet, would be $16,700. It would be $600 down FHA and a $125 a month payment; $50 down GI. Income should be $570 per month.

A three-bedroom home, with one bath only on the second floor, 1,092 square feet, would be $15,200; $500 down FHA and $114 a month payment; no down payment for a GI and $115 a month payment.

A three-bedroom, two-story, bath and one-half, 1,180 square feet would sell at $16,700. Down payment FHA would be $600 and with a payment of $125 per month; for a GI, it would be $50 down and $126 per month.

Tom Ryan, former attorney for the Marin City Tenants Council, asked the commission to find out what incomes were in Marin City today to see how many persons qualify.

Tolan said financing had to be worked out by sitting down with each family and that there is no average family or average man. Commissioners Goheen and Alton Lerch backed Tolan in this stand.

Figures and plans were released by Carl Treffinger, architect, and Tolan.

Fairfax Joins Fight For Railroad Tunnel

The Fairfax City Council unanimously pledged support last night to San Rafael in its fight against Northwestern Pacific Railroad's abandonment of 2.46 miles of the railroad's main line serving San Rafael.

After listening to San Rafael City Manager Dan E. Andersen score railroad representatives' contention that "the railroad is providing satisfactory rail service to Marin by rerouting cargo through Tiburon," councilmen voted to join against the railroad at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing Jan. 25 in San Francisco.

"The Northwestern Pacific Railroad has covered this county during the past few months with propaganda attempting to convince us that the abandonment of this service will have no effect on Marin County," said Andersen. "This is far from the truth. Surveys show without a doubt it now costs more money for businessmen to ship cargo."

"The railroad has told us that only 10 employees have been laid off." The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen has told us that over 100 men have either been laid off or will be as a result of this."

Andersen said San Rafael had engaged engineers to go into the caved-in Puerto Suello tunnel to determine the extent of damage.

"They tell us that it will cost the railroad almost one million dollars to get back in operating condition," Andersen said, "yet, nobody really knows the extent of damage and the only permission they will grant us is to walk around the premises."

He said that San Rafael had spent over $10,000 in its campaign to date and expected that this cost probably would be doubled.

Tom Ryan, former attorney for the Marin City Tenants Council, asked the commission to find out what incomes were in Marin City today to see how many persons qualify.

Tolan said financing had to be worked out by sitting down with each family and that there is no average family or average man. Commissioners Goheen and Alton Lerch backed Tolan in this stand.

Figures and plans were released by Carl Treffinger, architect, and Tolan.

Fairfax Joins Fight For Railroad Tunnel

The Fairfax City Council unanimously pledged support last night to San Rafael in its fight against Northwestern Pacific Railroad's abandonment of 2.46 miles of the railroad's main line serving San Rafael.

After listening to San Rafael City Manager Dan E. Andersen score railroad representatives' contention that "the railroad is providing satisfactory rail service to Marin by rerouting cargo through Tiburon," councilmen voted to join against the railroad at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing Jan. 25 in San Francisco.

"The Northwestern Pacific Railroad has covered this county during the past few months with propaganda attempting to convince us that the abandonment of this service will have no effect on Marin County," said Andersen. "This is far from the truth. Surveys show without a doubt it now costs more money for businessmen to ship cargo."

"The railroad has told us that only 10 employees have been laid off." The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen has told us that over 100 men have either been laid off or will be as a result of this."

Andersen said San Rafael had engaged engineers to go into the caved-in Puerto Suello tunnel to determine the extent of damage.

"They tell us that it will cost the railroad almost one million dollars to get back in operating condition," Andersen said, "yet, nobody really knows the extent of damage and the only permission they will grant us is to walk around the premises."

He said that San Rafael had spent over $10,000 in its campaign to date and expected that this cost probably would be doubled.

California Labor Unions Show Gain

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Labor unions in California gained 400,000 members during the 1950s but the percentage of non-farm workers belonging to unions dropped from 43 to 36 per cent during the decade, the department of industrial relations reported.

The department said union membership rose from 1,355,000 in 1950 to 1,756,000 in 1960, a gain of 30 per cent. The department said the rate if growth in union membership levelled off after the middle of the decade. While it averaged 3.6 per cent a year in the first half, it dropped to 1.6 per cent in the second half.

Macmillan, Adenauer Meet On Berlin Crisis

BONN, Germany (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan met with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today and informants said they would discuss a new U.S.-British proposal for an East-West standstill agreement to take the heat off the Berlin crisis.

Macmillan and the West German chancellor opened the first of several sessions in their day-long talks with only interpreters present. Their foreign ministers and other aides were to join them for lunch and an afternoon meeting.

No agenda was set, but Macmillan and Adenauer were expected to take up the Briton's December meeting with President John F. Kennedy in Bermuda, Britain's negotiations to enter the six-nation European Common Market, and Britain's desire that the Bonn government offset some of the 196-million-dollar annual maintenance cost of the 51,000-man British Army of the Rhine.

British officials said Macmillan brought from his Bermuda meeting with Kennedy a tentative U.S.-British alternative should current attempts to achieve a negotiated settlement of the Berlin crisis fail.

Adenauer indicated that present attempts in Moscow by U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson to set up an East-West negotiation on Berlin are getting nowhere.

NFL Attendance Hits All-Time Peak In '61

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Surging National Football League attendance hit a record high of 3,986,159 in 1961 with an average crowd of 40,675 at each of 98 regular season games.

"We are enthusiastic about the general balance of our attendance," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle, who was re-elected yesterday for a new five-year term at $50,000 a year.

Jim Kensil, league public relations chief, did not announce any individual club breakdown when he released the official paid attendance figures. He said the average crowd in 1961 was 40,675, compared to 40,106 in 1960.

Unofficial Associated Press figures showed that Cleveland led the league with 426,886, followed by New York with 423,949 and Philadelphia with 412,318.

The re-election of Rozelle was no surprise because the league has enjoyed unprecedented success in his regime.

MARIN GOLFER ADDED TO NCGA STAFF

Milton Gabbs of Ross, a member of the Meadow Club in Fairfax, has been named assistant executive secretary of the Northern California Golf Assn., announced NCGA President William V. Power yesterday.

Gabbs' appointment to assist Executive Secretary E. Hann was necessitated by the growth of the association to 140 clubs and the pressure of an enlarged tournament schedule. Power added, "The addition of Gabbs to the NCGA staff will permit the enlargement of services to member clubs and permit Hanna to devote more of his time to the association projects currently in the planning."

Gabbs recently retired from the oil industry. He is a native Californian and a graduate of the University of California. The new assistant secretary began playing golf under the tutelage of Earl Fry of Alameda and has been devoted to the game for many years.

Ice Hockey Stars Fail To Attract

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Who wants to watch a bunch of all-stars when you can see the champions instead?

This was apparently the feeling of the Portland fans who stayed away in droves from the fifth annual Western Hockey League all-star game.

The disappointing turnout of 4,126 was the lowest to watch a professional hockey game at the Rose City since the sport returned there last season after a decade absence. The Buckaroos are far ahead in Southern Division competition.

Those who showed up saw the Northern Stars skate away with a 7-4 decision and dominate action all the way.

Ace Scored At Peacock

A San Francisco golfer fired a hole-in-one on the Peacock Gap course yesterday.

Using a five iron, Nick Hirota scored the ace on the 146-yard, par three No. 16 hole. It was the first hole-in-one on No. 16 at Peacock Gap during the 14 months the course has been in use.

Hirota was playing with a fellow San Franciscan, K. Aoyagi, when he shot the ace.

Candlestick Wind Study Approved

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The city of San Francisco has decided to see if the swirling winds of the Candlestick Park baseball stadium can be tamed.

The board of supervisors yesterday voted to spend $55,000 to investigate the wind problems at the Giants' home.

The money was voted despite a word of caution from Works Director Reuben Owens, who said there was no assurance anything could be done about the wind.

Hoop Program Is Under Way

Play got under way last night at the San Rafael High School gymnasium in the 1962 San Rafael Recreation Repartment's basketball program.

Montgomery-Ward and the Terra Linda Merchants scored decisive wins over opposing quintets in Class C League contests.

The Ward cagers walloped the County Probation Department team 62-36 with Miles Gilmer setting the pace with 24 points. Terra Linda had a somewhat tougher time against the Dukes of Marinwood before winning 35 to 51. Dave Cannon of the losers was the high scorer with 15 points. Bob Taylor led the Terra Lindans with 10 points.

Teams are idle tonight, but there will be a doubleheader of Class C and Class A games Wednesday at 7:30 and 9 p.m. in the San Rafael High gym.

Seventeen teams are competing in three leagues in the winter recreation program for adults this year.

Crippled Saints To Battle Rens On L.A. Twinbill

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The San Francisco Saints meet the Pittsburg Rens in the first game of an American Basketball League doubleheader here tonight and the Saints are hurting.

They sent two players home to St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco with injuries last night.

Whitey Bell, who has a hurt ankle, and Mike Farmer, with a back ailment, are expected to be out of action at least a week.

Jim Francis and John Berberich are expected to play against the Eastern Division-leading Rens tonight. Francis, Berberich, Bell and Farmer didn't play Sunday when the Saints lost at Cleveland.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The crowds came to watch Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and national amateur champion Jack Nicklaus.

But they stayed to cheer brash young Phil Rodgers, a 23-year-old pro who has been on the tour exactly six months.

It was Rodgers who methodically mowed down the big names in the $45,000 Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament —slaughtered them, in fact, to such an extent it was no contest.

WORTH $7,500

The young Rodgers, just out of the Marines, headed for his home town of San Diego today with the $7,500 first prize check in his pocket—and all the world much brighter. On his way to conquering the field the stocky, 187-pound, five-foot eight-inch Rodgers clipped four strokes off the tournament record by posting a 72-hole score of 268.

He broke the course record of 63 (held by Ken Venturi and Tommy Bolt) with a sizzling 62. He won by the widest margin in this tourney since 1929, when McDonald Smith beat Horton Smith by the same distance.

It was the biggest victory margin in a PGA tournament since 1959 when Mike Souchak spreadeagled the field by nine shots in the Motor City Open at Northfield, Mich.

TIE FOR SECOND

Finishing in a tie for second and picking up $3,325 each were Bob Goalby, the defending champion from Crystal River, Fla., and hardluck Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex., who has not won a major tourney since 1956. They each had 277. Jackie Burke, Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., veteran, came next with 278 and won $2,400.

It was a surprising turn of events for young Rodgers. He had started the day in a deadlock with Hawkins, with former PGA champion Lionel Hebert only one shot away. It looked like a dog fight to the finish.

"I went out on the course with the intention of just playing the best I knew how," said Rodgers later. "As it turned out, I played even better than that."

Foss Confident Despite Big Financial Loss

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—A second year of team losses amounting to two million dollars apparently has not dimmed American Football League commissioner Joe Foss' outlook for the AFL's future.

Foss was optimistic about the league after the first day of the annual AFL winter meeting yesterday.

Among reasons for his optimism were expected higher revenue from television, a greater number of draft choices than the National Football League and "enthusiasm" at the two weakest spots in the league—Oakland and Denver.

Foss said 1961 had been the "most successful signing year we have had," explaining that out of 100 top draft choices, eight American Football League teams signed 40 players, the National Football League — with 14 teams — 38, and the Canadian League five.

Dietzel's Successor

49ers Sign Versatile Performer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Syracuse halfback Dick Easterly, one of college football's most versatile performers, was signed up with the San Francisco 49ers today.

The speedy, six-foot 190-pound backfield ace was the Prospectors' 14th draft choice.

Easterly started his collegiate grid career as a quarterback. But he was switched to flanker back, where he was an outstanding pass receiver. He also anchored the defensive backfield of the Orangemen.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Stanford's Indians open their Big Five Conference basketball play on Friday hosting California. Much of the Tribe hopes for a successful campaign rests with 6-8 sophomore Tom Dose.

The youngster from Glendale was honored by the Northern California Basketball Writers Assn. yesterday as "player of the week" for his performance in Stanford's two victories over Oregon last weekend.

Even Cal's Coach Rene Herrerias had plaudits for the 213-pounds 19-year-old.

'LIKE LUCAS'

"Tom plays very much like Jerry Lucas of Ohio State," Herrerias told the writers. "He's so smooth you almost don't realize the part he plays but he'll score those 20 points and grab the rebounds."

As Stanford compiled a 10-2 pre-conference record, including four victories over service teams in Hawaii, Dose led the team in scoring with 216 points and in rebounding with 146. He has averaged 18 points per game.

Stanford will open against California with two sophomores, two juniors and one senior in its starting alignment. With Dose will be sophomore Hollis Moore, juniors Don Clemetson and Darrell Sutherland and senior co-captain John Windsor.

HERRERIAS UNDECIDED

Herrerias said he doesn't yet know which five Bears will start at Stanford. Senior Ed Donahue, who only last week returned to action after a bout with pneumonia, should see duty.

"He helped us Saturday night against Southern California, but tired quickly," Herrerias said.

He termed the USC Trojans, who beat California twice, the best team physically that the Bears have faced this season.

Coach Jim Weaver of St. Mary's termed Stanford's Dose and Bob Garibaldi of Santa Clara as the two best sophomores in the area. The latter has been one of several Bronco stars as the West Coast Athletic Conference club has built a 12-1 record.

This weekend Santa Clara and the University of San Francisco travel to Los Angeles for WCAC doubleheaders Friday and Saturday nights in the Sports Arena. On Friday, the Broncos face Pepperdine with USF meeting Loyola. They exchange foes for Saturday night.

University of the Pacific plays San Jose State at Stockton on Friday night in a conference game and follows with a non-conference fray at San Francisco State on Saturday night. Coach Van Sweet of Pacific indicated he'll move senior John Nicholls into the starting team to get more experience. He has been opening with Ken Stanley, his ace two-letterman, and four sophomores.

Gael Cagers Knocked Off By Spartans

SAN JOSE (AP)—An aggressive, pressing defense has given San Jose State's Spartans the early lead in the West Coast Athletic Conference basketball race.

The Spartans (2-0) knocked off St. Mary's (1-1) in the only conference activity last night. Stealing the ball from the Gaels 15 times, the Spartans won with ease 51-37.

Steve Gray of St. Mary's was the scoring leader with 20 points but a trio of Spartans stashed away more than enough tallies to wrap up the victory. Dennis Bates hit 14 points, Joe Braun 12 and 6-foot-5 Bill Robertson came off the bench for 11.

The Gaels, who sank only 12 shots from the floor all night, trailed 24-15 at halftime.

San Jose State now has allowed just 73 points in two WCAC games.

NFL Attendance Hits All-Time Peak In '61

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Surging National Football League attendance hit a record high of 3,986,159 in 1961 with an average crowd of 40,675 at each of 98 regular season games.

"We are enthusiastic about the general balance of our attendance," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle, who was re-elected yesterday for a new five-year term at $50,000 a year.

Jim Kensil, league public relations chief, did not announce any individual club breakdown when he released the official paid attendance figures. He said the average crowd in 1961 was 40,675, compared to 40,106 in 1960.

Unofficial Associated Press figures showed that Cleveland led the league with 426,886, followed by New York with 423,949 and Philadelphia with 412,318.

The re-election of Rozelle was no surprise because the league has enjoyed unprecedented success in his regime.

MARIN GOLFER ADDED TO NCGA STAFF

Milton Gabbs of Ross, a member of the Meadow Club in Fairfax, has been named assistant executive secretary of the Northern California Golf Assn., announced NCGA President William V. Power yesterday.

Gabbs' appointment to assist Executive Secretary E. Hann was necessitated by the growth of the association to 140 clubs and the pressure of an enlarged tournament schedule. Power added, "The addition of Gabbs to the NCGA staff will permit the enlargement of services to member clubs and permit Hanna to devote more of his time to the association projects currently in the planning."

Gabbs recently retired from the oil industry. He is a native Californian and a graduate of the University of California. The new assistant secretary began playing golf under the tutelage of Earl Fry of Alameda and has been devoted to the game for many years.

Ice Hockey Stars Fail To Attract

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Who wants to watch a bunch of all-stars when you can see the champions instead?

This was apparently the feeling of the Portland fans who stayed away in droves from the fifth annual Western Hockey League all-star game.

The disappointing turnout of 4,126 was the lowest to watch a professional hockey game at the Rose City since the sport returned there last season after a decade absence. The Buckaroos are far ahead in Southern Division competition.

Those who showed up saw the Northern Stars skate away with a 7-4 decision and dominate action all the way.

Ace Scored At Peacock

Using a five iron, Nick Hirota scored the ace on the 146-yard, par three No. 16 hole. It was the first hole-in-one on No. 16 at Peacock Gap during the 14 months the course has been in use.

Hirota was playing with a fellow San Franciscan, K. Aoyagi, when he shot the ace.

Candlestick Wind Study Approved

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The city of San Francisco has decided to see if the swirling winds of the Candlestick Park baseball stadium can be tamed.

The board of supervisors yesterday voted to spend $55,000 to investigate the wind problems at the Giants' home.

The money was voted despite a word of caution from Works Director Reuben Owens, who said there was no assurance anything could be done about the wind.

Hoop Program Is Under Way

Play got under way last night at the San Rafael High School gymnasium in the 1962 San Rafael Recreation Repartment's basketball program.

Montgomery-Ward and the Terra Linda Merchants scored decisive wins over opposing quintets in Class C League contests.

The Ward cagers walloped the County Probation Department team 62-36 with Miles Gilmer setting the pace with 24 points. Terra Linda had a somewhat tougher time against the Dukes of Marinwood before winning 35 to 51. Dave Cannon of the losers was the high scorer with 15 points. Bob Taylor led the Terra Lindans with 10 points.

Teams are idle tonight, but there will be a doubleheader of Class C and Class A games Wednesday at 7:30 and 9 p.m. in the San Rafael High gym.

Crippled Saints To Battle Rens On L.A. Twinbill

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The San Francisco Saints meet the Pittsburg Rens in the first game of an American Basketball League doubleheader here tonight and the Saints are hurting.

They sent two players home to St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco with injuries last night.

Whitey Bell, who has a hurt ankle, and Mike Farmer, with a back ailment, are expected to be out of action at least a week.

Jim Francis and John Berberich are expected to play against the Eastern Division-leading Rens tonight. Francis, Berberich, Bell and Farmer didn't play Sunday when the Saints lost at Cleveland.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The crowds came to watch Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and national amateur champion Jack Nicklaus.

But they stayed to cheer brash young Phil Rodgers, a 23-year-old pro who has been on the tour exactly six months.

It was Rodgers who methodically mowed down the big names in the $45,000 Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament —slaughtered them, in fact, to such an extent it was no contest.

WORTH $7,500

The young Rodgers, just out of the Marines, headed for his home town of San Diego today with the $7,500 first prize check in his pocket—and all the world much brighter. On his way to conquering the field the stocky, 187-pound, five-foot eight-inch Rodgers clipped four strokes off the tournament record by posting a 72-hole score of 268.

He broke the course record of 63 (held by Ken Venturi and Tommy Bolt) with a sizzling 62. He won by the widest margin in this tourney since 1929, when McDonald Smith beat Horton Smith by the same distance.

It was the biggest victory margin in a PGA tournament since 1959 when Mike Souchak spreadeagled the field by nine shots in the Motor City Open at Northfield, Mich.

TIE FOR SECOND

Finishing in a tie for second and picking up $3,325 each were Bob Goalby, the defending champion from Crystal River, Fla., and hardluck Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex., who has not won a major tourney since 1956. They each had 277. Jackie Burke, Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., veteran, came next with 278 and won $2,400.

It was a surprising turn of events for young Rodgers. He had started the day in a deadlock with Hawkins, with former PGA champion Lionel Hebert only one shot away. It looked like a dog fight to the finish.

"I went out on the course with the intention of just playing the best I knew how," said Rodgers later. "As it turned out, I played even better than that."

Foss Confident Despite Big Financial Loss

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—A second year of team losses amounting to two million dollars apparently has not dimmed American Football League commissioner Joe Foss' outlook for the AFL's future.

Foss was optimistic about the league after the first day of the annual AFL winter meeting yesterday.

Among reasons for his optimism were expected higher revenue from television, a greater number of draft choices than the National Football League and "enthusiasm" at the two weakest spots in the league—Oakland and Denver.

Foss said 1961 had been the "most successful signing year we have had," explaining that out of 100 top draft choices, eight American Football League teams signed 40 players, the National Football League — with 14 teams — 38, and the Canadian League five.

49ers Sign Versatile Performer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Syracuse halfback Dick Easterly, one of college football's most versatile performers, was signed up with the San Francisco 49ers today.

The speedy, six-foot 190-pound backfield ace was the Prospectors' 14th draft choice.

Easterly started his collegiate grid career as a quarterback. But he was switched to flanker back, where he was an outstanding pass receiver. He also anchored the defensive backfield of the Orangemen.

Dietzel's Successor

Bass Fishing Has Come To Life; Steelhead Prospects Fair To Good

STEVENS

Alice Quan of China Camp gives honorable mention to angler A. Holly of San Rafael who took his limit to six pounds on Thursday, but admitted that most of the regulars were home-bound because of the cold weather. Alice also told me the flounders were likewise reluctant to feed on cut bait.

Bass fishing, which was in the doldrums for several days, has come to life. This is indicated by the stunt of a south bay patrron of the art of fishing. Joe Kristinais took out a group of seven in his private cruiser and inside of one hour's trolling in the Red Rock sector netted seven limits of striped bass from 2 to 15 pounds.

Joe Navarro of the Sportsmen's Center, Castro Valley, who made that report, also mentioned Douglas Claypoole and his 14-year-old son, Clay, taking legal threes of bass on sardine baits in the Buoy 10 area. Fish ran in the medium size class. And Wilbur Locke and two friends limited from 6 to 10 pounds in the Buoy 10 sector. So, it is apparent that the slump was only a temporary one as far as stripers are concerned.

THE LEADING question in many an angler's mind right now is, "What are chances of a catch of steelhead?" So let's have a look at that picture.

First and foremost is the report on the Russian River, the stream which has the greatest potential of all the coast streams when and if the bar at the mouth is open. As I have so often stated in my columns, the Russian is the one river that harbors not only steelhead and salmon, but also striped bass and black bass. As I have also frequently stated, because of the many tributary streams flowing through cultivated land and emptying silt into the main stream after a rain, the Russian is the last stream to clear and become fishable. On Thursday, I believe it was, Edo Pachini took two nice steelhead from the Brown's Pool area—one 10 and one 12-pounder—and reported the river is still "clearing." So, perhaps the Russian is the one stream where your chances of taking a steelhead or two is from fair to good. Incidently, Pachini reported that he tried roeberries without success and shifted to a winged bobber and hit the jackpot. Edo saw 11 steelies landed close to where he took his two.

AS REGARDS chances on most of the other coast streams from the Russian to the Ten Mile above Fort Bragg, I contacted Jack McCurley at Point Arena. Jack admitted all streams in the area had fish—steelhead—in them, but very few were being taken. The water is low and crystal clear," he told me. "Not even the experts are making the grade. We need rain and nee—d it badly." I asked about the crowds that were trying. "No crowds. In fact very few fishermen are trying. They know it's no use.

Most of the mouths of the streams are open and have been. Due to the rough seas at present, the mouth of the Gualala may close, but that is not certain.

I asked about abalone hunting on Saturday. "Not so good. Swells four to six feet high kept the take down to a minimum." So—that's the abstract picture os this writer sees it. So long!

Jurgensen's Mental Anguish Worse Than Physical Harm

By OSCAR FRALEY

MIAMI (UPI)—The mental anguish has to be worse today for Sonny Jurgensen than the piercing pain in his separated shoulder.

The flashy red-head waited through a long, frustrating period for his chance at football stardom. It came at last this past season and at 27 Sonny finally hit it big.

But there's no way of telling at the moment whether the golden touch in his passing arm turned to brass on the sun-swept gridiron at the Orange Bowl on Saturday.

It was a bad day all around for Sonny as his Philadelphia Eagles faced the Detroit Lions in the National Footbowl League's runnerup bowl game. He couldn't generate the pinpoint passing which swept him to a pair of coveted records. Then, into the second quarter, Jurgensen was jammed to the turf and the pain exploded in his shoulder.

"It's the worst separation I've ever seen," said Dr. Mike Mandarino, the Eagles' team physician. "Every ligament is torn."

They put it in a cast and Jurgensen came back onto the sidelines to watch helplessly as the Lions chewed up the Eagles, 38-10. He sat and he stood and he paced and finally walked disconsolately to the dressing room.

And he had to be thinking of those waiting years, the brief season of a long-awaited glory and the uncertainty of a future menaced by the aching shoulder which may never be the same again.

As a high school passer, Jurgensen learned to throw the ball while kneeling so that he could snap his passes from any position. Yet, when he got to Duke, the Blue Devils were rich in running backs and Sonny labored in the obscurity of a running game.

His hopes rose again when he was drafted by the Philadelphia Eagles, for the pros always have leaned toward passing and the swift aerial strike which shortens the yards to the goal line. But now there was another obstacle. The Eagles had a passer named Norm Van Brocklin, who was an established star and leader. So Sonny polished the bench for four years and watched "the Dutchman" operate.

Then came his chance. Van Brocklin retired and Jurgensen received the call.

He made them wonder, this past season, why his talents had been wasted for so long because Jurgensen "arrived" with meteoric swiftness. It wasn't long before he had taken a place right up beside the famed Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts, matched the latter's record by pitching 32 touchdown passes and smashed Johnny U's record for yards gained passing in one season.

DAMAGING TACKLE

But Saturday, in the heat which blanketed the Orange Bowl, Wayne Walker, a 225-pound linebacker from Idaho, smashed through Sonny's blockers and drove the off-balance Jurgensen into the turf. Pain pin-wheeled through Sonny's head as the ligaments in his passing shoulder were ripped apart.

It had to be slightly ironic that this game was being played for the NFL players' injury and pension fund.

They operated on Jurgensen today and Mandarino said he "hoped" that Sonny will be all right next season. But this is something which no one can foretell. It depends on the unrevealed damage, the repair work done by the scaipel and the manner of the healing.

The months before he throws a ball again will be long ones for Sonny Jurgensen. For nobody can say until he tries whether the arm will retain its magic or whether one year was all the football fates gave him.

Home Nursing Service In Marin

By MAYBELLE SPACKMANN

Thanks to the enterprise of Mrs. Richard T. Clarke, who has just established a home nursing service for the county with headquarters in her Mill Valley home, Marin residents may eventually be saved thousands of dollars on the costs of illnesses.

"The advantages of such a service—not available in most cities in this country other than from visiting nurses' associations until recently—are far reaching," Mrs. Clarke pointed out.

"Health experts urge expansion of home care, now covering 5,000 patients today, to 75,000. Such expansion, they say, could save the nation a billion dollars in hospital construction costs alone," she declared.

"An overcrowded community hospital may have to spend one million dollars or more to build a 50-bed annex, and the money must come from taxes or voluntary contributions. If 50 beds can be saved by placing some patients on home care, the annex need not be built.

"A home nursing service has been a dream of mine for many years," she continued, "especially since right after World War II when I was with the public health department in San Diego, and it became apparent to me that this type of service was very valuable—not as welfare but as private enterprise.

"I found that many patients, especially older people, are much happier at home and the only reason they have to be in the hospital often is because of a few nursing procedures that can be just as well done in the home with the right equipment. Family members or a housekeeper can do everything else. It saves a lot of money.

"As one patient said, 'waiting to go home is the toughest part when you're getting well.' Further values to the patients are that their minds are at ease, especially a mother who could be at home to supervise running of the house or even do little things herself so that she knows she is needed as well as wanted.

"Patients staying in the hospital longer than necessary results not only in larger expenses to them but in enormous sums paid out by hospitals and health insurance services that are reflected in sky - rocketing hospital costs andhealth insurance premiums.

"In December I finally decided to do something about my dream, for there is no visiting nurses' association in Marin, even under welfare. Public health nurses will go out and demonstrate home care if they have time but can give no care themselves.

June Clarke, an R.N. of wide experience, operates the service from an office in her home with the help of an answering service and two part - time R.N.'s, Mrs. Richard Beedle and Mrs. Charles Kelly, both of Mill Valley.

"A most important point," Mrs. Clarke explained," is that a patient must be under doctor's care in order to take advantage of our service, and most of our clients, in fact, are referrals from doctors.

"We are equipped to give such services as bed baths, catheterizations, enemas, irrigations and injections, change surgical dressings, take blood pressure and do any other nursing procedures required.

"We use disposable syringes and needles and other equipment, use sterile wrapped dressings and have the use of Ross General Hospital for sterilizing of larger equipment.

"And we are fully covered by mal-practice and liability insurance."

June Clarke is eminently qualified to head this type of service.

A native of Los Angeles, she grew up in Redlands, where she attended the University of Redlands one year and completed her nurse's training in three years at Mercy College of Nursing in San Diego, becoming an R.N. in 1941.

She is an American National Red Cross nurse and was a nurse with the U.S. Army for four years after being in Honolulu on Pearl Harbor Day.

In Tripler General Hospital in Honolulu she was chief nurse of the medical hospital with full responsibility for work of all nurses in all medical wards.

Finding a home and family more than enough to fill all her time after that, she did not continue her career until last year when she did three months of general duty nursing at Ross General Hospital.

Her husband established his own advertising agency last year in San Francisco. They have two sons, Kenneth, 14, and Richard, 11.

The family has lived in Mill Valley eight years, and June laughs now about how they happened to settle there.

"We wrote the chambers of commerce of a number of places in the Bay Area when my husband was transferred to San Francisco from Pasadena by the firm he was working for then. We even attacked the problem of where to live scientifically by making charts of rainfall, availability to skiing and transportation and other requirements, and Mill Valley came out last. But when we saw it, we were so impressed that we chose it immediately.

The first year the family joined the tennis club, for which June served as women's tennis chairman one year and chairman of all women's activities for the club last year.

She has also been a member of the Outdoor Art Club since her first year in Mill Valley and headed its Well Baby Clinic for the past six years. She resigned from this job this year on deciding to undertake the home nursing service.

Her plans for the future include extending the service to include housekeeping assistance and physiotherapy, and she hopes to attack the problem of having the service included under hospitalization insurance, since most health insurance carriers require hospitalization for payment of benefits.

There's A Tug Of War Going On For American Child's Loyalty

There's a tug of war going on for our children's loyalty. Left and right-wingers are struggling. You should know about it.

On the left are folks we call "liberals." It is said that leadership comes from liberal colleges and universities. Columbia, Harvard, University of California, University of Chicago, Antioch, and so on. On the right are the "conservatives," including such groups as the American Legion. They want the schools to strengthen the teaching of Americanism. They have little use for the "one-worlders." They speak frequently of the way the Reds brainwashed American soldiers in Korea. One American prisoner in ten turned informer. Did you know that? They don't want such a thing to happen again.

One oldtimer among the liberal leaders explained to me how he felt. He said bluntly, "Until Americans get over the curse of patriotism we will not be fit to lead the world." He added that our schools must create world citizens, not American citizens. This man is well known. When he speaks educators listen.

A conservative leader who heard him replied that the statement was treason. He said, "We face a hostile world, more deadly than ever before. If we dilute our loyalty we ask for annihilation." He was most emphatic. Which side is right? What do you think?

Me? I don't mind declaring myself. I'm on the conservative side of this tug of war. As long as communism thrives, we've no choice. If we aren't fanatically patriotic, we may die. My personal conclusion is that our schools should strengthen the teaching of patriotic Americanism in every way possible, immediately. Schools have done a good job traditionally. But a still better one is indicated. Does that make sense to you?

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Is it true that Americans taken prisoner in Korea were more easily brainwashed than the soldier prisoners from other UN countries?"

(A) Yes. For example, many Turkish soldiers were captured. Not one of them could be persuaded to cooperate with the Communists. But thousands of our boys gave in.

Store Away Some Ideas For Your 1962 Christmas Cards

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)--You might, while you're putting away the last of the holiday memories, store away some ideas for 1962's Christmas cards.

Giving the personal touch to greetings by means of photographs of family members or household scenes is one of the most familiar ways of personalizing holiday greetings. But each year, new ideas come along, and from cards which came our way in 1961, here are some suggestions for your post-holiday filing system.

A family in Scarsdale, N. Y., for instance, each yead sends greetings with a map showing the location of various members as the children grow up and go on to college—one member's face peeks currently from California where she is a student at Stanford University; another is pictured on skis in New England, on holiday from school; mom and dad still hold forth at the family manse.

Another couple with a country home in Milford, Pa., sends a map of the family home and acreage including such markings as "Deer Crossing" and "Wild life feeding stations" all over the place.

Or, if you're taking a trip between now and the next Yule season, use on your cards snapshots of yourself befitting the trip—a photograph of you or a family member perched precariously on an elephant in India, a camel in Egypt.

Some messages will in themselves make your cards distinguished—such as the greeting which said, "Best wishes for your best wishes", or the one which recited the legend of the Christmas tree's origin.

Or, the message good anytime of the year which began, ". . . End a quarrel, seek out a forgotten friend . . . Express your gratitude, welcome a stranger, gladden the heart of a child, take pleasure in the beauty and wonder of the earth, speak your love, speak it again, speak it still again.

Some greetings are in the form of newsletters which keep family and friends filled in on what has happened in the last 12 months. One family I know sends this one in verse form, yet.

Thereon and Verle Liddle of Salt Lake City do a month-by-month chronicle of what has happened to each member of the family, even to the pets. If you want to copy their idea, start now keeping a dairy—otherwise by next December a lot of little things will have slipped your mind.

Successful Weatherproofing As Simple As Doing Laundry

Successful home weatherproofing of washable rainwear is almost as simple as doing the laundry. There's only one trick—the laundering itself.

Weatherproofing agents are effective only if the garment about to be treated is free of all soil, residue from soaps and detergents—and hard water minerals. These foreign materials block the minute spaces between fabric fibers where the weatherproofing agent would lodge, and the weatherproofing becomes spotty.

Machine launder at the wash- and -wear setting with mild soap powder or flakes or any mild detergent.

To make certain the garment is rinsed clean, add a water conditioner, such as Calgon, to the rinse.

Hang the garment carefully on a rust-proof hanger, smoothing seams, collar, cuffs, buttonholes and hemline, and let dry thoroughly. Or, put it in the dryer on the air setting.

When the garment is completely dry, apply the weatherproofing agent according to directions on its container.

TOUCHES OF SPRING

Davidow offers a soft and feminine touch in suits with a stole and pleats in a smoky blue wool cardigan suit. The brief jacket, notched at the sides, has four flapped patch pockets for detail.

UPDATING THE feminine elegance that was Cleopatra's, Ceil Chapman shapes a modern cocktail dress for flattery. Done in beige lace with matching silk organdy, the short slim dress hugs the curves from shoulder to hip. It is finished with a deep square neckline and graceful sleeves.

DESIGNER HERBERT SONDHEIM chooses lively checks for the slimmest of spring dresses. Clever seaming of the sheer navy and white worsted fabric lends detail to the front of the sleek collarless dress. It is finished with a bow-tied navy leather belt.

TOUCHES OF SPRING

Davidow offers a soft and feminine touch in suits with a stole and pleats in a smoky blue wool cardigan suit. The brief jacket, notched at the sides, has four flapped patch pockets for detail.

UPDATING THE feminine elegance that was Cleopatra's, Ceil Chapman shapes a modern cocktail dress for flattery. Done in beige lace with matching silk organdy, the short slim dress hugs the curves from shoulder to hip. It is finished with a deep square neckline and graceful sleeves.

Mayor John McInnis To Speak At League 'Metropolitan Day'

The Leagues of Women Voters of the Bay Area will hold its first "Metropolitan League Day," on January 16, in the Marines' Memorial Building, 609 Sutter Street, San Francisco, 10:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

"Regional Planning for the Bay Area" will be discussed at 11 a.m. by Assemblyman Jerome Waldie of Contra Costa County and Mayor John F. McInnis of San Rafael.

Following luncheon Dr. Edward W. Strong, Chancellor of the University of California at Berkeley, will speak on "Environmental design."

The purpose of the organization is to increase the knowledge and effectiveness of local leagues in the field of area-wide government and to coordinate League work at the metropolitan level. A representative of each League attends meetings held periodically throughout the year. The executive committee carries out the policies and directions of the group between meetings, plans and directs the work necessary to pursue the program and represents the Bay Area Leagues before governmental agencies on area-wide matters.

Reservations for luncheon may be mailed to local League office, or to the San Francisco League office, 465 Post St. Tickets will be delivered at the door on the day of the luncheon.

Mrs. Erich Nielsen of San Francisco is chairman of the Leagues of Women Voters of the Bay Area. Co-chairman is Mrs. William Spangle of Menlo Park. Other officers include Mrs. Kurt Huth of Berkeley, Mrs. Richard Nesbitt of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Robert Golden of Larkspur.

What Really Caused Death Of Two Great Newspapers?

Why do newspapers with tremendous readership and advertising volume — like the Los Angeles Examiner and the Los Angeles Mirror — throw in the sponge?

Obviously, they are business failures. That is, income doesn't equal outgo; they have run in the red instead of showing a profit.

But why?

The two newspapers that closed up in Los Angeles last week had daily paid circulations larger than any of the three San Francisco newspapers.

So it would NOT be correct to say that they just didn't interest enough readers anymore.

If you know approximately the average advertising rate of the papers and apply it to their volume of paid space, you know that their income was substantial. Advertising volume suffered no sudden decline. The newspapers remained to the end effective advertising media.

So it would NOT be correct to say that they lost their advertising "pull" and therefore lost their income-earning potential.

When their publishers announce that they succumbed to "spiraling costs," then, we can accept that as accurate.

But why did costs spiral?

The cost of everything goes up steadily these days. And the things newspapers utilize in the way of materials and services are no exception.

But we doubt if that is all there is to it.

We suspect that two prime factors are inefficiency and competition.

Newspapers, like other organizations, tend when they get old and large to "need" an increased proportion of administrative employees who don't really produce anything; they just "process" things.

We rather imagine that the Examiner and Mirror in Los Angeles both had a huge number of non-productive employees, "paper-pushers."

Competition? While there were only four major metropolitan newspapers within the city of Los Angeles, there nevertheless are more than 100 newspapers in Los Angeles County—all competing for the same readers, mostly, and the same advertising dollars. And the number of TV and radio stations competing for the same audience and same advertising dollars is myriad.

We rather imagine that this competition required ever-rising expenditures to attract and hold reader audiences and to sell advertising. We suspect that the cost of selling advertising in that highly competitive field is as high, relatively, or higher than any place in the country.

Undoubtedly it contributed to the demise of the two newspapers.

But, specifically, just why did the Examiner and the Mirror go broke?

If we knew, exactly, we could have sold the answer to their respective owners. We doubt if anybody really knows for certain the reasons are too complex for simple explanation.

FULFILL RESPONSIBILITIES AND HAVE NO REGRETS

An 18-year-old girl was haled into a New Jersey court for refusing to return some 70 books she had borrowed from the local library.

After her mother paid the $187.75 due on them, the teen-ager said: "From now on, I'll buy my books."

Sooner or later it is smarter to do things right in the first place than to suffer the inevitable penalty that comes from trifling with our responsibilities.

Those who operate on the deceptive theory that the only sin is being caught, never enjoy the ease of conscience for which they yearn. Much as one may try to stifle the tendency of his very nature to do good and avoid evil, he never quite succeeds.

Live up to your nobler self under all circumstances. Whether it is borrowing books from the library or upholding your duties to God and man as a citizen, adhere to the sensible standards of charity and justice, and you will have no regrets for time or for eternity.

"Do what is right and good in the sight of the Lord, that you may, according to His word, prosper."

Weight Watchers Do A Slow Burn, Hearing Certain Things Said

"Well, Elmer, you've already lost one chin — now you've just got three more to go."

"I hear he has to weigh himself on two bathroom scales—one under each foot."

"Remember, Elmer, it's those little indulgences that add up. After all, an elephant eats only one peanut at a time—but look at the result."

"We ought to do something special for his birthday. How about lighting a candle on a piece of melba toast?"

"Excuse me, sir, do you want three or four lumps of sugar in your coffee?"

"You're doing fine, Mr. Wallow. You've taken off another quarters of a pound this week. Slow and easy—that's what does it. At this rate in another three years you'll be down to within 15 pounds of your normal weight."

"Would you mind taking this plate back to the kitchen, waiter? The gravy's too cold. And by the way, tell the chef to put a little more on. I like oodles of it."

"Why don't you go to my doctor, Elmer? He lets you eat all the fat you want."

"This one's for Elmer. Don't use a shot glass. Pour it from a thimble. He's on a diet."

"Why don't you go to my doctor, Elmer? He lets you have four pieces of bread a day—and mashed potatoes twice a week, plus ice cream on Sundays."

"I don't know who the fat guy is, Joe. But every morning on the way to work he stops and puts his nose against the window and watches me toss pancakes. Wonder why he doesn't come in and have some?"

"GEE, I SURE do envy you, Elmer. I eat, and eat and eat —and I can't put on an ounce to save my life."

"I'm sorry, Mr. Wallow. I've got this tape measure as tight as I can get it, and you still have a size 46 waist."

"HE HASN'T SPOKEN to me since Christmas—and all I did was ask him if he wouldn't play Santa Claus at our club's annual party for kids."

"Please quit pulling in your stomach so hard, dear. You're so red in the face I'm afraid you'll keel over."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

US Support Of UN In Congo Lauded

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

United States support of the United Nations in the Congo affair is enlightened self interest. Our government policy needs the vigorous backing of all citizens who believe that a strong U. N. is our best hope for World Peace.

The unreconstructed isolationists, wanting to destroy the U. N., are now allied with the colonial mining interests who wish to perpetuate their lucrative exploitation of Katanga's mineral wealth. Tsombe is their stooge, and Madison Avenue, their megaphone.

The vociferous yawps of the extreme right needs to be countered by voices of reason, if Washington is to continue its rational representation in this instance for the majority of clear thinking Americans.

Free Enterprise Not Sacred Cow

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In his letter to the editor, Dec. 19, Wm. Hubbell describes a group of students writing on "Red or Dead"; and then, among other comments and questions, asks if it is too difficult for me to realize that our freedom interferes with the wishes of "World Communism." The answer is no. One has only to follow the news to be aware of that. What I do find extremely difficult to understand is the narrow, self-righteous thinking that reduces our differences to black and white, right (our way) or wrong (their way), freedom (capitalism) or slavery (communism), the "good guys" (Americans, of course) or the "bad guys" (anyone who opposes us?). Nor does the inflammatory and unjustified catch-phrase "Red or Dead" make any sense to me.

It is time we stopped acting as if Communism is a dirty word and Free Enterprise a sacred cow. There are inherent defects in both systems and each needs to borrow and learn from the other. While we are given very little factual knowledge of daily life in Russia, the evils of unbridled captialism are apparent to anyone studying Latin America. Too often "freedom" has only meant that the strong could take advantage of the weak. As President Kennedy recently pointed out, true freedom is not possible where poverty and ignorance are the lot of the people.

Even here in the U.S. we do have slums, migratory workers living like animals, unemployment, people unable to afford medical care, and young people unable to afford higher education. Are you quite sure, Mr. Hubbell, that ours is the highest living standard in the world? How free is a black or brown American, especially those living in our southern states? I think if we made an honest attempt to "first cast out the beam from our own eye" we would not have to worry about the loyalty and support of the young. Their sense of justice is strong. We might even find that is is only a "mote" that is in brother Khrushchev's eye. In any case, we could see better to remove it if necessary, without blowing us all to kingdom come.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Jackie Mason, now a most successful night club attraction, confesses that he once was so self-conscious that at football games, every time the players went into a huddle, he was convinced they were dishing dirt about him! Seeking a cure, he sought out a psychiatrist who told him, "My fee is $25 a visit." That virtually cured Mason on the spot. "For $25," he told the psychiatrist haughtily, "I don't visit. I move in!"

The police finally caught a bank robber red-handed in a corruption-ridden city. This not-so-clever robber was attempting to hold up the bank with a sawed-off shotgun. Unfortunately for him, he had sawed off the wrong end.

At the age of 70, Colonel Culpepper huffed. "When a man reaches my age, he can't go on indulging in wine, women, and song. Gentlemen, I propose to give up singing."

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

More than 800 west coast telephone equipment workers walked out, halting dial installation equipment work at the San Rafael phone office, because they said they could not find proper Marin County housing or living facilities in their price range. Survey by a union of Western Electric Co. workers was announced to have shown that the workers must pay $11 more per week to live in Marin County than the company allows.

20 YEARS AGO

Promise of cuts in Greyhound bus fares from $12.50 to $10 for San Rafael, from $9 to $7 in Mill Valley and from $8.50 to $6.50 for Sausalito, made by Greyhound provided the Golden Gate Bridge would reduce tolls from 50 cents to 25 cents which the company said would mean $2,500 monthly saving.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By THERON NEWELL

Football May Replace Baseball As Our Greatest Spectator Sport

WITH THE NEW YEARS bowl games safely behind us, and only a little left of the professional football season, it is with a great deal of reluctance that I see my favorite sport leave the limelight until next fall.

College football games this year reported in excess of 42,000,000 in attendance. Add to this the tremendous growth of professional football in the past five to 10 years, and we wonder if football, not baseball, isn't America's favorite spectator sport.

Football is a rugged he-man game. There are 60 minutes worth of real action in every game.

It takes a combination of brawn and brain to play it. And it is a strain on the men who play a game of it. Some doctors have reported that it takes a healthy athlete eight days to fully recover from a strenuous football game. That may explain why a team can be great one week and poor the next.

All during the time that football has been making such gains in recent years, baseball has been suffering.

Major teams have had to move in order to keep the interest of the people. Minor leagues would have ceased to exist if it wasn't for the support they receive as training grounds for the majors.

The length of the season may be a factor also. Major baseball teams play 162 games a year. The public may grow tired of this endless contest to decide a championship.

While on the other hand, football teams could not play that number of games. It is physically impossible for the players. A professional team plays just 14 games during a season.

This difference in season will make baseball stronger financially. A team that can draw a smaller crowd to 162 games will make more money than one that draws a big crowd to 14 games.

Even with this difference, the gap between football and baseball attendance is narrowing to the point until it is quite possible that football will be considered America's favorite sport in the future.

UP NOVATO WAY, landlord Al Bowman turned a deaf ear all during the hot weather to a request of one of his tenants for air conditioning. So when December 25 rolled around, Al received a gift from this same tenant. What was it? A hearing aid, of course.

UN Has Opportunity In West New Guinea To Regain Lost Prestige

TWO CURRENT happenings are worth examining together: India's conflict with Portugal over Goa and Indonesia's controversy with the Netherlands over West New Guinea. The more closely we study them, the clearer it is that although superficially they look somewhat alike, fundamentally they are quite different.

The essential difference is that in the case of Goa the government of Portugal took an absolute position that the status of Goa was not negotiable. Goa is a small enclave on the mainland of India and Dr. Salazar insisted on having it treated as a part of Portugal with its capital in Lisbon. He insisted that Goa must remain an integral part of Portugal and he bolted the doors firmly against any negotiation about it.

Though Britain and France left the Indian continent peaceably, for 15 years Portugal has refused to leave it peaceably or even to talk about leaving it ever. The determining fact about the Goa question is that though it was in fact a Portuguese colony in India, Portugal denied that there was any peaceable method of doing what Britain and France had done about the rest of the Indian continent.

GOA POINTS UP sharply, as I remember from many talks with him, John Foster Dulles's worries about what he regarded as one of the great defects of the United Nations charter. In his book, "War or Peace," which was published in 1950 before he was Secretary of State and was still an advisor to the Truman administration, he wrote that "the possibility of peaceful change is a fundamental prerequisite to peace" for "if we set up barriers to all change, we make it certain that there will be a violent and explosive change." That is what happened in Goa. Dr. Salazar set up barriers to all change, and after 15 years there was a violent and explosive change.

IT HAS BEEN SAID recently that Nehru's action in Goa is a precedent and an incitement to Sukarno to seize West New Guinea. The two cases are quite different. The Netherlands, unlike Portugal, has set up no barrier to change. On the contrary, it has invited peaceful change by the conciliatory procedures of the United Nations and of the world community.

The Netherlands, therefore, has come into court with clean hands and it is entitled to the full support of the world community in guaranteeing that the change, which is to come in West New Guinea, will be a peaceful change.

The use of military force by Indonesia when the Netherlands is inviting peaceful change would be wanton aggression against the charter of the UN.

THE ISLAND OF New Guinea lies to the east of Indonesia and north of Australia. The western part is governed by the Netherlands, the eastern by Australia. The people are the Papuans. They are so primitive that by comparison the Congolese are highly advanced. There can be no question in the foreseeable future of their being able to govern themselves as a nation-state in the kind of world we live in. In their foreign relations, in the maintenance of public order, and for their development as a people, they must have tutelage from more advanced people. If the Dutch must go, and after them the Australians, someone else—who is no more Papuan than the Dutch or the Australians — would have to take over. For this role the Indonesians have nominated themselves.

Their claim to West New Guinea is not that it is inhabited by Indonesians, as is Goa by Indians, but that West New Guinea was part of the colonial empire of the Netherlands and that they are the heirs of that empire. They are not pleading merely for the end of colonialism. They are asking for the transfer to themselves of a Netherlands colony. Their legal and moral position is no different than that which prevailed in the nineteenth century when the great colonial powers in Africa used to transfer bits of territory from one to the other.

The members of the UN will have to ask themselves why they should support the establishment of a new empire in the Pacific.

THE REALITY and the morality of the affair seems to me to call for a new status in which no nation, not the Netherlands and not Indonesia, becomes the colonial overlord. That would mean setting up West New Guinea as a trust territory, administered under some form of mandate from the United Nations to protect, educate, and help the Papuan people.

If this can be done, the United Nations will regain much of its weakened prestige.

What Really Caused Death Of Two Great Newspapers?

Why do newspapers with tremendous readership and advertising volume — like the Los Angeles Examiner and the Los Angeles Mirror — throw in the sponge?

Obviously, they are business failures. That is, income doesn't equal outgo; they have run in the red instead of showing a profit.

But why?

The two newspapers that closed up in Los Angeles last week had daily paid circulations larger than any of the three San Francisco newspapers.

So it would NOT be correct to say that they just didn't interest enough readers anymore.

If you know approximately the average advertising rate of the papers and apply it to their volume of paid space, you know that their income was substantial. Advertising volume suffered no sudden decline. The newspapers remained to the end effective advertising media.

So it would NOT be correct to say that they lost their advertising "pull" and therefore lost their income-earning potential.

When their publishers announce that they succumbed to "spiraling costs," then, we can accept that as accurate.

But why did costs spiral?

The cost of everything goes up steadily these days. And the things newspapers utilize in the way of materials and services are no exception.

But we doubt if that is all there is to it.

We suspect that two prime factors are inefficiency and competition.

Newspapers, like other organizations, tend when they get old and large to "need" an increased proportion of administrative employees who don't really produce anything; they just "process" things.

We rather imagine that the Examiner and Mirror in Los Angeles both had a huge number of non-productive employees, "paper-pushers."

Competition? While there were only four major metropolitan newspapers within the city of Los Angeles, there nevertheless are more than 100 newspapers in Los Angeles County—all competing for the same readers, mostly, and the same advertising dollars. And the number of TV and radio stations competing for the same audience and same advertising dollars is myriad.

We rather imagine that this competition required ever-rising expenditures to attract and hold reader audiences and to sell advertising. We suspect that the cost of selling advertising in that highly competitive field is as high, relatively, or higher than any place in the country.

Undoubtedly it contributed to the demise of the two newspapers.

But, specifically, just why did the Examiner and the Mirror go broke?

If we knew, exactly, we could have sold the answer to their respective owners. We doubt if anybody really knows for certain the reasons are too complex for simple explanation.

FULFILL RESPONSIBILITIES AND HAVE NO REGRETS

An 18-year-old girl was haled into a New Jersey court for refusing to return some 70 books she had borrowed from the local library.

After her mother paid the $187.75 due on them, the teen-ager said: "From now on, I'll buy my books."

Sooner or later it is smarter to do things right in the first place than to suffer the inevitable penalty that comes from trifling with our responsibilities.

Those who operate on the deceptive theory that the only sin is being caught, never enjoy the ease of conscience for which they yearn. Much as one may try to stifle the tendency of his very nature to do good and avoid evil, he never quite succeeds.

Live up to your nobler self under all circumstances. Whether it is borrowing books from the library or upholding your duties to God and man as a citizen, adhere to the sensible standards of charity and justice, and you will have no regrets for time or for eternity.

Weight Watchers Do A Slow Burn, Hearing Certain Things Said

"Well, Elmer, you've already lost one chin — now you've just got three more to go."

"I hear he has to weigh himself on two bathroom scales—one under each foot."

"Remember, Elmer, it's those little indulgences that add up. After all, an elephant eats only one peanut at a time—but look at the result."

"We ought to do something special for his birthday. How about lighting a candle on a piece of melba toast?"

"Excuse me, sir, do you want three or four lumps of sugar in your coffee?"

"You're doing fine, Mr. Wallow. You've taken off another quarters of a pound this week. Slow and easy—that's what does it. At this rate in another three years you'll be down to within 15 pounds of your normal weight."

"Would you mind taking this plate back to the kitchen, waiter? The gravy's too cold. And by the way, tell the chef to put a little more on. I like oodles of it."

"Why don't you go to my doctor, Elmer? He lets you eat all the fat you want."

"This one's for Elmer. Don't use a shot glass. Pour it from a thimble. He's on a diet."

"Why don't you go to my doctor, Elmer? He lets you have four pieces of bread a day—and mashed potatoes twice a week, plus ice cream on Sundays."

"I don't know who the fat guy is, Joe. But every morning on the way to work he stops and puts his nose against the window and watches me toss pancakes. Wonder why he doesn't come in and have some?"

"GEE, I SURE do envy you, Elmer. I eat, and eat and eat —and I can't put on an ounce to save my life."

"I'm sorry, Mr. Wallow. I've got this tape measure as tight as I can get it, and you still have a size 46 waist."

"HE HASN'T SPOKEN to me since Christmas—and all I did was ask him if he wouldn't play Santa Claus at our club's annual party for kids."

"Please quit pulling in your stomach so hard, dear. You're so red in the face I'm afraid you'll keel over."

US Support Of UN In Congo Lauded

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

United States support of the United Nations in the Congo affair is enlightened self interest. Our government policy needs the vigorous backing of all citizens who believe that a strong U. N. is our best hope for World Peace.

The unreconstructed isolationists, wanting to destroy the U. N., are now allied with the colonial mining interests who wish to perpetuate their lucrative exploitation of Katanga's mineral wealth. Tsombe is their stooge, and Madison Avenue, their megaphone.

The vociferous yawps of the extreme right needs to be countered by voices of reason, if Washington is to continue its rational representation in this instance for the majority of clear thinking Americans.

Free Enterprise Not Sacred Cow

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In his letter to the editor, Dec. 19, Wm. Hubbell describes a group of students writing on "Red or Dead"; and then, among other comments and questions, asks if it is too difficult for me to realize that our freedom interferes with the wishes of "World Communism." The answer is no. One has only to follow the news to be aware of that. What I do find extremely difficult to understand is the narrow, self-righteous thinking that reduces our differences to black and white, right (our way) or wrong (their way), freedom (capitalism) or slavery (communism), the "good guys" (Americans, of course) or the "bad guys" (anyone who opposes us?). Nor does the inflammatory and unjustified catch-phrase "Red or Dead" make any sense to me.

It is time we stopped acting as if Communism is a dirty word and Free Enterprise a sacred cow. There are inherent defects in both systems and each needs to borrow and learn from the other. While we are given very little factual knowledge of daily life in Russia, the evils of unbridled captialism are apparent to anyone studying Latin America. Too often "freedom" has only meant that the strong could take advantage of the weak. As President Kennedy recently pointed out, true freedom is not possible where poverty and ignorance are the lot of the people.

Even here in the U.S. we do have slums, migratory workers living like animals, unemployment, people unable to afford medical care, and young people unable to afford higher education. Are you quite sure, Mr. Hubbell, that ours is the highest living standard in the world? How free is a black or brown American, especially those living in our southern states? I think if we made an honest attempt to "first cast out the beam from our own eye" we would not have to worry about the loyalty and support of the young. Their sense of justice is strong. We might even find that is is only a "mote" that is in brother Khrushchev's eye. In any case, we could see better to remove it if necessary; without blowing us all to kingdom come.

Seeking a cure, he sought out a psychiatrist who told him, "My fee is $25 a visit." That virtually cured Mason on the spot. "For $25," he told the psychiatrist haughtily, "I don't visit. I move in!"

Football May Replace Baseball As Our Greatest Spectator Sport

WITH THE NEW YEARS bowl games safely behind us, and only a little left of the professional football season, it is with a great deal of reluctance that I see my favorite sport leave the limelight until next fall.

College football games this year reported in excess of 42,000,000 in attendance. Add to this the tremendous growth of professional football in the past five to 10 years, and we wonder if football, not baseball, isn't America's favorite spectator sport.

Football is a rugged he-man game. There are 60 minutes worth of real action in every game.

It takes a combination of brawn and brain to play it. And it is a strain on the men who play a game of it. Some doctors have reported that it takes a healthy athlete eight days to fully recover from a strenuous football game. That may explain why a team can be great one week and poor the next.

All during the time that football has been making such gains in recent years, baseball has been suffering.

Major teams have had to move in order to keep the interest of the people. Minor leagues would have ceased to exist if it wasn't for the support they receive as training grounds for the majors.

The length of the season may be a factor also. Major baseball teams play 162 games a year. The public may grow tired of this endless contest to decide a championship.

While on the other hand, football teams could not play that number of games. It is physically impossible for the players. A professional team plays just 14 games during a season.

This difference in season will make baseball stronger financially. A team that can draw a smaller crowd to 162 games will make more money than one that draws a big crowd to 14 games.

Even with this difference, the gap between football and baseball attendance is narrowing to the point until it is quite possible that football will be considered America's favorite sport in the future.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

More than 800 west coast telephone equipment workers walked out, halting dial installation equipment work at the San Rafael phone office, because they said they could not find proper Marin County housing or living facilities in their price range. Survey by a union of Western Electric Co. workers was announced to have shown that the workers must pay $11 more per week to live in Marin County than the company allows.

20 YEARS AGO

Promise of cuts in Greyhound bus fares from $12.50 to $10 for San Rafael, from $9 to $7 in Mill Valley and from $8.50 to $6.50 for Sausalito, made by Greyhound provided the Golden Gate Bridge would reduce tolls from 50 cents to 25 cents which the company said would mean $2,500 monthly saving.

UN Has Opportunity In West New Guinea To Regain Lost Prestige

TWO CURRENT happenings are worth examining together: India's conflict with Portugal over Goa and Indonesia's controversy with the Netherlands over West New Guinea. The more closely we study them, the clearer it is that although superficially they look somewhat alike, fundamentally they are quite different.

The essential difference is that in the case of Goa the government of Portugal took an absolute position that the status of Goa was not negotiable. Goa is a small enclave on the mainland of India and Dr. Salazar insisted on having it treated as a part of Portugal with its capital in Lisbon. He insisted that Goa must remain an integral part of Portugal and he bolted the doors firmly against any negotiation about it.

Though Britain and France left the Indian continent peaceably, for 15 years Portugal has refused to leave it peaceably or even to talk about leaving it ever. The determining fact about the Goa question is that though it was in fact a Portuguese colony in India, Portugal denied that there was any peaceable method of doing what Britain and France had done about the rest of the Indian continent.

GOA POINTS UP sharply, as I remember from many talks with him, John Foster Dulles's worries about what he regarded as one of the great defects of the United Nations charter. In his book, "War or Peace," which was published in 1950 before he was Secretary of State and was still an advisor to the Truman administration, he wrote that "the possibility of peaceful change is a fundamental prerequisite to peace" for "if we set up barriers to all change, we make it certain that there will be a violent and explosive change." That is what happened in Goa. Dr. Salazar set up barriers to all change, and after 15 years there was a violent and explosive change.

IT HAS BEEN SAID recently that Nehru's action in Goa is a precedent and an incitement to Sukarno to seize West New Guinea. The two cases are quite different. The Netherlands, unlike Portugal, has set up no barrier to change. On the contrary, it has invited peaceful change by the conciliatory procedures of the United Nations and of the world community.

The Netherlands, therefore, has come into court with clean hands and it is entitled to the full support of the world community in guaranteeing that the change, which is to come in West New Guinea, will be a peaceful change.

The use of military force by Indonesia when the Netherlands is inviting peaceful change would be wanton aggression against the charter of the UN.

THE ISLAND OF New Guinea lies to the east of Indonesia and north of Australia. The western part is governed by the Netherlands, the eastern by Australia. The people are the Papuans. They are so primitive that by comparison the Congolese are highly advanced. There can be no question in the foreseeable future of their being able to govern themselves as a nation-state in the kind of world we live in. In their foreign relations, in the maintenance of public order, and for their development as a people, they must have tutelage from more advanced people. If the Dutch must go, and after them the Australians, someone else—who is no more Papuan than the Dutch or the Australians — would have to take over. For this role the Indonesians have nominated themselves.

Their claim to West New Guinea is not that it is inhabited by Indonesians, as is Goa by Indians, but that West New Guinea was part of the colonial empire of the Netherlands and that they are the heirs of that empire. They are not pleading merely for the end of colonialism. They are asking for the transfer to themselves of a Netherlands colony. Their legal and moral position is no different than that which prevailed in the nineteenth century when the great colonial powers in Africa used to transfer bits of territory from one to the other.

The members of the UN will have to ask themselves why they should support the establishment of a new empire in the Pacific.

THE REALITY and the morality of the affair seems to me to call for a new status in which no nation, not the Netherlands and not Indonesia, becomes the colonial overlord. That would mean setting up West New Guinea as a trust territory, administered under some form of mandate from the United Nations to protect, educate, and help the Papuan people.

If this can be done, the United Nations will regain much of its weakened prestige.

East	South	West	North

Pass	Pass	6 ♠	Pass
Pass	7 ◇	Double	All Pass

Opening lead — ♣ 2

When this hand came along in the national tournament in Houston a few weeks ago, the experts who held the North-South cards had a field day. North always started a campaign to swindle West out of his vulnerable slam.

In some cases, North jumped right to six diamonds. When this was enough to buy the hand, South gave up only 300 points to take the slam away from West. Even if West refused to sell out, South was willing to go on to seven diamonds. A penalty of 500 points was still a good bargain.

OUTLANDISH: In a few cases North dreamed up more outlandish bids. One player jumped to three notrump with the North cards and found himself playing the hand undoubled. He didn't win a single trick, but that cost only 450 points. If he had been doubled he would have run to diamonds.

One North player jumped to four notrump, as though interested in a slam. South showed one ace by bidding five diamonds, and North passed with a perfectly straight face. The opponents fell for this, and South got away with a loss of only 50 points.

It was good clean fun, and nobody complained. North wouldn't have been quite so happy with his cards at rubber bridge. He would still try for a cheap sacrifice, but he wouldn't send out for champagne and dancing girls at the prospect of losing 500 points.

There's probably a moral in this: If you find yourself getting irritated by very bad hands, try duplicate bridge. Deuces will give you no pain.

DAILY QUESTION: You are not vulnerable, and the opponents are. Partner deals and bids three diamonds. The next player doubles. You hold:

♠ None
♥ Q 9 8 6 5 3
♦ Q J 7 6 2

What do you say?

Answer: Something vigorous, such as seven diamonds! The opponents must be laydown for a slam, and your only chance is to talk them out of it for a small penalty.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Weak Hands Can Amuse Players In Tournament

When you're playing in a bridge tournament, a certain kind of ghastly hand is very interesting. If there's any red blood in your veins you start right out on a life of crime.

Opening lead — ♣ 2

When this hand came along in the national tournament in Houston a few weeks ago, the experts who held the North-South cards had a field day. North always started a campaign to swindle West out of his vulnerable slam.

In some cases, North jumped right to six diamonds. When this was enough to buy the hand, South gave up only 300 points to take the slam away from West. Even if West refused to sell out, South was willing to go on to seven diamonds. A penalty of 500 points was still a good bargain.

OUTLANDISH: In a few cases North dreamed up more outlandish bids. One player jumped to three notrump with the North cards and found himself playing the hand undoubled. He didn't win a single trick, but that cost only 450 points. If he had been doubled he would have run to diamonds.

One North player jumped to four notrump, as though interested in a slam. South showed one ace by bidding five diamonds, and North passed with a perfectly straight face. The opponents fell for this, and South got away with a loss of only 50 points.

It was good clean fun, and nobody complained. North wouldn't have been quite so happy with his cards at rubber bridge. He would still try for a cheap sacrifice, but he wouldn't send out for champagne and dancing girls at the prospect of losing 500 points.

There's probably a moral in this: If you find yourself getting irritated by very bad hands, try duplicate bridge. Deuces will give you no pain.

DAILY QUESTION: You are not vulnerable, and the opponents are. Partner deals and bids three diamonds. The next player doubles. You hold:

♠ None
♥ Q 9 8 6 5 3
♦ Q J 7 6 2

What do you say?

Answer: Something vigorous, such as seven diamonds! The opponents must be laydown for a slam, and your only chance is to talk them out of it for a small penalty.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Mill Valley Nursery Chosen As Showplace

The Mill Valley nursery of E. L. Egger and Son will be one of six Bay Area nurseries to be visited later this month by delegates to the annual Western Garden Trade Exposition to be held in San Francisco.

The nursery will be visited Jan. 26 on one of the three days of the show. In 1960 the nursery was chosen as a showplace by the California Redwood Assn. for the excellence of its design.

Nature Group Films Friday

Two films, "The Beaver, Nature's Engineer" and "The Salmon Story," will be shown at a meeting of the Marin Nature Group at 8 p.m. Friday in room 40 of the chemistry building at College of Marin.

Willis Evans of the California Fish and Game Department will be commentator for both films.

Weather permitting, the nature group plans a trip Sunday to observe the salmon run in Paper Mill Creek and visit Drake's Bay Estates beach, reported Margaret B. Best, secretary. Members will meet at the College of Marin circle at 10 a.m.

In ancient times Bizerte, Tunisia, then known as Hippo Zarytus, waged continuous war with Carthage. Both cities fell before Roman legions in the 2nd Century, B.C. and were absorbed into the Roman Empire.

Visitors To Muir Woods Increase

Visitors to Muir Woods National Monument increased 3 per cent last year over the number in 1960, Supt. Frederick M. Martischang said today. He said this compares with an .8 of one per cent increase in 1960 over 1959.

There were 504,946 visitors in 1959, 508,757 in 1960 and 524,291 in 1961.

The superintendent said he estimates the park lost 4,500 visitors last November and December because of a strike against Gray Line Inc., operators of sight seeing buses. The bus company is still on strike, he said, but persons are brought by other bus lines in addition to coming by private car, limousine and taxi.

Nearly 18 million families in the United States own dogs.

Visitors To Muir Woods Increase

Visitors to Muir Woods National Monument increased 3 per cent last year over the number in 1960, Supt. Frederick M. Martischang said today. He said this compares with an .8 of one per cent increase in 1960 over 1959.

There were 504,946 visitors in 1959, 508,757 in 1960 and 524,291 in 1961.

The superintendent said he estimates the park lost 4,500 visitors last November and December because of a strike against Gray Line Inc., operators of sight seeing buses. The bus company is still on strike, he said, but persons are brought by other bus lines in addition to coming by private car, limousine and taxi.
